ASSASSINATION OF FRENCH PRESIDENT IS ATTEMPTED DURING CELEBRATION

ANARCHIST FIRES THREE SHOTS

None Injured When Police Chief Mistaken for Millerand

WARNING ISSUED BY PRESS

Crowd Attacks Would-be Slayer
Who Confesses

PARIS — (United Press) — An attempt was made to assassinate President Millerand of France today on the Champs Elysee, as he was returning from a military review held in connection with the celeon of Bastille Day.

Gaston Bouvet, 23, who fired three shots into an automobile in which he thought Millerand was riding, was arrested after an attempt was made to lynch him.

Bouvet confessed he was an anarchist, and that he intended to kill the president.

The shots were fired into the automobile bearing Chief of Police Naudins, which followed 100 meters behind Millerand's open carriage.

Naudins was not hit by the bullets.

ATTACK ANTICIPATED
The attack on Millerand was anticipated. Paris newspapers yesterday sounded the warning that an attempt on the life of the president

The attempt on the life of President Millerand of France, today recalled the recent assassinations of Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British general staff during the war, and Dr. Walter Rathenau, German foreign minister.

Assassinations of Wilson and Rathenau and the attempted murder of Millerand cannot, however, be connected up with a general European murder plot.

Wilson was killed by three men who were identified as belonging to the Irish republic movement; Rathenau was slain by tools of the monarchists and Gaston Bouvet, who attempted the life of Millerand is a confessed anarchist.

was likely today, following inflammatory articles carried in the radical press.

The secretary of President Miller-and gave the United Press the following eye-witness account of the attempted assassination:

"President Millerand was riding in an open carriage about 100 meters ahead of an automobile carrying Chief of Police Naudins. Naudins' automobile was just turning from the crowded Champs Elysee into Avenue Marigny towards the residence of Millerand.

"A man stepped out of the crowd with a pistol in his hand. Three shots were fired at Naudins' auto no bille.

"Thousands surged upon the attempted assassin. He was knocked down, trampled and beaten. Police rescued him from those intent upon taking his life and hurried him off to prison.

PRESIDENT WARNED
"Part of the crowd rushed back to the carriage containing the president. 'Stay back! They're trying to shoot you!' was the warning that came to Millerand from hundreds of persons.

A troop of black colonials galloped between the carriage of Millerand and Naudins' automobile down the Champs Elysee when Bouvet fired the shots.

The sudden reports of the pistol threw the parade into confusion. The horses pranced on the wide thor-fare as the cavalrymen tried to rein their mounts toward the scene of the shootings.

As the news of the attempt on the life of Millerand spread through Paris, which was celebrating Bastille Day, its national holiday, hundreds of thousands rushed down the Champs Elysee toward the president's residence.

Soldiers and police formed a cordon around the presidential residence.

The attempt to assassinate Millerand was made while Paris was celebrating the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille in 1789, which marked the overthrow of the monarchy.

The Bastille, in which countless atrocities had been committed by despots of France, was completely destroyed.

BOY SCOUTS JOIN VOGEL SEARCH

Parties Organized in Endeavor to Find Missing Striker

Aid of Lima boy scouts was enlisted Friday in a city-wide search for Fred
C. Vogel, 70, employee of the L. E. & W. shops out on strike who has been missing since early Monday. H. E.
Simonton, of the scout council, promised relatives of the missing man he would organize a searching party among the boys.

According to police, Vogel left his home at the Adgate-apts at 7:30 a. m. and was last seen on the public square at 11 a. m. J. H. Kenyon, 111 W. Circular-st, a bosom friend of the aged man, said he saw him for the last time at the L. E. & W. shops about 8 a. m.

It is not believed by Vogel's wife that he is with either of his two brothers or a sister. One of the former, Albert Vogel, resided in Dayton, but removed elsewhere. Dayton authorities know nothing of Vogel's appearance there. The sister, Mrs. Minnie Walker, resides in Muskogee, Oklahoma, and the second brother, William, in California.

No preparations for a trip out of the city were made by Vogel, it is reported.
The only valuables he carried with him was a watch and a check for $81.33. He left a sum of money at home.

It is believed he met death in some manner and search by the scouts was planned to include out-of-the-way and unfrequented places in the city and countryside. There was no indication that he was worrying about anything except that shop craftsmen went on strike, police were informed. His hearing is defective.

Vogel was a skilled mechanic at the shops.

KILLS WIFE, SELF

Newark Man. Sued for Divorce, Fires Fatal Shots

NEWARK — (United Press) — Oliver P. Williams, 54, former Newark policeman, shot and killed his wife at her home here early today, then killed himself with four bullets from the same gun.

Williams and his wife had separated, and she had applied for a divorce. Williams called at his wife's home at 5 a. m. today. When she opened the back door to admit him, he opened fire. She fled upstairs, where she fell dying.

Williams fired four shots into his chest near the heart and died in a hospital an hour later.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams leave three children. Mrs. Williams also leaves two children by a former marriage.

ROCKEFELLER'S CONSENT IS SOUGHT BY MATHILDE

CHICAGO — (United Press) —
make final plea to her grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, for consent to her marriage to Max Oser, Swiss livery stable proprietor.

Mathilde planned to join her father in New York and after visiting Rockefeller, they will sail to Europe.
According to present plans, Mathilde will be married in the early fall, after which her father may marry Ganna Walska, Polish opera star, in Paris.

McCormick, who left for New York last night, appeared fully recovered from his recent operation.

MINERS TO REFUSE ARBITRATION

Leaders Will Recommend Rejection of Harding's Plan

GUARANTEE INSUFFICIENT

Demand President Pledge Application to all Fields

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — It became definitely known today that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and other national officers of the union, who have been negotiating with the government since President Harding offered arbitration to settle the coal strike, are preparing to recommend to their associates in the union control that the government's plan be rejected.

The decision was made today after Lewis and the union national officers had again consulted with officials concerned at the department of labor.

GUARANTEE IS ASKED Ever since the president's offer of arbitration was laid before the union leaders gathered in Washington, the effort has been made by them to get definite assurances from the government that the arbitration would be applied to all the bituminous areas which the union considers within its scope, including parts of West Virginia and Pennsylvania where coal is still being mined. Altho Lewis and the district presidents of the United Mine Workers refused to give the union's answer to the president's proposal until the general policy committee of the mine workers and its entire membership of 126 could be assembled, demand was made to the president that Secretary Davis that some assurance be given that the semi-union and non-union fields, where the strike has made some progress, be included.

A second request made to the president, was that working conditions under the previous wage contracts, including the "checkoff" system of collecting union dues, be not included in the arbitration.

While an announcement has been forthcoming officially, the union men were definite today in asserting that the responses they had received today were unsatisfactory.

PROTESTS SUBMITTED
The bituminous operators likewise have presented protests to the president's arbitration plan, based largely upon the continuation of wage scales of 1920-22 during the period of arbitration in progress. There were intimations today that one group of Pennsylvania operators would flatly refuse to accept the proposition, and general indications that other bituminous operators would attempt to insist upon modifications. Anthracite employers have accepted the president's proposals practically without condition, this pointing out that their market position is very different from that of the bituminous operators and that they are without intermittency in operation and without great diversification and distribution of mines.

SHOOTING PROBE IS DEMANDED

Sylvania Physician Questions Manner of Girl's Death

TOLEDO — (United Press) — Demand for all details of the Toledo love tragedy in which Evelyn Courtoire was said to have committed suicide after shooting Kenneth Gumm, bridegroom of only a few hours, was made today by authorities of Sylvania, Ohio, Evelyn's home town.

After examining the girl's body, Dr. U. A. Cook, Sylvania, reported to police that the head showed no signs of powder burns that might indicate she shot herself.

"Evelyn had been roughly handled," Dr. Cook charged.

"I found ugly bruises on her arms."

The shooting, which wedding party guests declared was all done at the hands of the Courtoire girl because Gumm, a salesman, had married Pearl Thomas, pretty maidservant, took place in a fashionable Toledo apartment house.

Miss Courtoire, claiming to be Gumm's first love, broke in upon the wedding celebration and demanded return of "My Kenneth," according to guests.

In an argument which followed,
she was said to have shot Gumm thru the left lung and then turned the gun on herself. She died instantly. The bridegroom still lives

FEDERAL TROOPS MAY BE BROUGHT TO OHIO FIELD

Governor Davis Scored for Refusal to Provide Protection

MORE KILLINGS ARE FEARED

Mine Operators Want Guard at Their Plant

CINCINNATI — (United Press) —
First definite steps to bring United States troops into Ohio coal fields were to be taken here today.

Attorney Lowry F. Sater of the Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, operating mines in Perry-co near New Straitsville, was to appear before Federal Judge John W. Peck, with a plea that the federal government send troops to protect company property.

"Governor Davis has thrown us down flat," Sater said. "If we are to protect life and property, we must have troops at once."

Sater explains his company owns approximately 400,000 tons of slack coal and that loading it without protection of heavily armed troops would be "nothing less than murder" for the workers.

INJUNCTION SECURED An injunction against strikers interference with mine operation in this district was obtained from federal court in Columbus soon after the Independence Day riots which resulted in the killing of one man.

Attorneys for the coal company, however, are inclined to regard the injunction as "only a legal step which will be of no value in case of further outbreaks."

Sater attached considerable significance to his meeting with Judge Peck today, he pointed out, because of the attitude of the Washington administration, as expressed in a statement from Secretary of War Weeks that he would send troops in to districts where state authorities refused to act.

POLICE ON GUARD

Protect Court While Jury Decides Man's Fate

NEWPORT, Ky. — (United Press) — Heavily armed police guarded the little court here today as a jury wrangled over the fate of Meyer Kling.

Kling, a grocery clerk, is charged with criminal assault upon Opal Hartig, 19, bride of only a few months.

Guard reinforcements were ordered on the scene of the trial by Judge A. M. Caldwell, following rumors that a secret organization had carefully plotted a "hanging party" in case Kling is acquitted.

BOY ONLY SURVIVOR OF FAMILY SLAIN BY FATHER

CLEVELAND — Eric Mayer, five years old, is in a local hospital today, the sole survivor of the family of Mathew Mayer, 35, of Euclid village. Eric became an orphan when his father shot and killed his mother, his eight months old sister Malena, and then, after shooting
Eric in the chest, turned the weapon on himself with fatal effect. Hospital physicians this morning said Eric would recover.

Police say the shooting followed a family quarrel.

STRIKERS REMONSTRATE
POMEROY — Ten automobile loads of striking union miners left here this morning in company with Seth Thomas, secretary-treasurer of the sub-district United Min Workers, to remonstrate with workers in the small mines around here.

More Violence Reported in National Railroad Walkout

U. S. TROOPS MAY BE USED

President Determined Ultimatum
Must be Obeyed

CHICAGO — (United Press) —
Renewed threats of a strike of 400, 000 maintenance of way employes arose today as an obstacle to a quick settlement of the railroad labor troubles.

President E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of way union, after a midnight conference with Bert
M. Jewell, president of the striking shopmen's organization, announced he would do everything he possibly could to prevent a walkout.

He admitted, however, that there had been many unauthorized strikes by his men, but said he had been doing everything within his power to induce members of his organization to abide by his promise he gave the United States rail board that there would be no strike.

A majority of the general chairmen of the maintenance of way union have denied that a meeting he called to go ahead with plans for the strike according to information reaching Grable.

MORE VIOLENCE REPORTED
CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Strike threats by maintenance of way employes, broke out again today, bringing the rail strike to a new crisis as it neared the end of its second week.

Fresh outbreaks of violence, notably in Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri, President Harding determined steps to keep the mails moving and informal negotiations for a settlement of the shopmen's strike on 17 roads in the northwest were among other important developments of the last 24 hours.

Pressure by many of his general chairmen upon E. F. Grable, president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railway Shop Laborers, pushed the common labor problem to the front again.

EXPLOSION KILLS 1, INJURES 5

Dynamite Trap Set by Alleged Mine Agitators Lets Go

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — (United Press) — Explosion of a dynamite trap, alleged to have been set by mine union agitators, killed one non-union miner and seriously injured four others, at Mordue, near here early today. Five miners were slightly injured. The miners were on their way to work and were riding on the last of three flat cars that were being pushed up a hill by a gasoline engine. The first two cars were blow to splinters and the third car, on which the miners were riding, was wrecked.

SPANIARD KILLED
Henry J. Cuervas, a Spaniard, was killed. The seriously injured are:
Francis Cuervas, Charles Freeman, Henry Berberhard and Isaac Maitin.

State police, led by bloodhounds, are on the trail of the dynamiters.
The men were employed at the Mordue Colliery Company, of Mordue, 40 miles from here.

A special train is being rushed here from the scene of the disaster.
The explosion destroyed the tracks for more than 400 yards.

"This is another of a series of crimes directly traceable to the United Mine Workers of America agitators," D. C. Kennedy, secretary of the West Virginia Coal Association said.

The mine has been in operation since June 1, on an open shop basis.
C. C. Lewis, superintendent of the mine, who was riding on the train, was injured about the face. His dog was killed.

MANY NEW OFFICERS ARE COMMISSIONED BY DAVIS

COLUMBUS — (United Press) —
It became known today that, since July 1, Governor Davis has commissioned about 100 special officers at the request of railroads operating in Columbus and about 300 all over the state.

Prior to the outbreak of the rail strike an average of only 50 special commissions a month were issued, according to records at the government's office.

The governor, by law, is given the right to commission special officers upon application of any railroad. Is-surance of the commission becomes automatic with the request and $5 fee.

COAL MEETING OPENS

WASHINGTON — Representatives of non-union coal operators were here for a conference today with Secretary Hoover to discuss means for preventing smaller operators from advancing prices beyond the limits fixed recently by voluntary agreement.

BIG STRIKE ORDERED

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) —
A strike call to the 25,000 stationary firemen, engineers and others employed on railroads thruout the United States had been issued. Timothy Hoaly, national president.

FIGHT BREAKS IN STREET WORK

Citizens Protest Step-off Plan From Walk to Pavement

MAIN-ST IS BATTLE GROUND

City Engineer Vaughn Miller Stands Pat on Change

Whether downtown street intersections are to be five inches lower than the level of the curb or even with it, will depend on the amount of protest against the step-off. Vaughn Miller, city engineer, said Friday.

Attempts to make the streets lower than the curb at the intersections along High-st and at Pierce and North-sts have been protested by property owners, it is stated.

So vehement were the protests of the High-st property owners, when the street was built, that it was necessary to bring the street to the level of the curb by adding on asphalt.

Similar protests will be filed against the Pierce and North-sts intersection. It is understood and a request made that the crossing be brought to the level of the top of the curb.

Plans for the repaving of Main-st will call for the lowering of the street intersections to conform with the practice in all of the larger cities, Miller said.

Property owners, it is believed, will fight this move and request that the plan now in force in Lima be continued. Where it is necessary to step down to the street and up to the curb walking is made difficult, they claim.

"I am positively in favor of building modern streets and will draw all plans in accord with the best practice until I am ordered to do otherwise," Miller said Friday.

"Lima will be a large city some day and should be made ready now for that time. Building streets flush with the top of the curb will not do it," he continued.

"Lima is on comparatively level ground and on certain streets proper drainage cannot be had unless the streets are kept lower than the curb," Miller added.

"Dayton, Columbus, Canton and other of the larger cities have realized the necessity for modern streets and have abandoned the Lima type of crossings in the business district at least," he said.

"So far the only arguments presented by the objectors are that it is harder walking and inconvenient for women with baby carriages to have the five inch dropoff at the street intersection," he continued. "This is true, but not serious enough to keep Lima from having modern streets built in the most efficient way," he concluded.

Protests already made indicate that the matter will reach the city commission at an early date and that a uniform standard will be adopted for the city.

MILLER STANDS PAT
While Miller is firm in his belief that the kind of intersections and crossings now in use are out of date, he will follow the instructions of the commission if it decides against him, he said.

Main-st will be the battleground for those who favor and those who oppose the lowering of the street crossings a point five inches below the top of the curb. From past performances it appears that those against the move are in the majority.

Opinion of C. A. Bingham, city manager, could not be obtained as it was stated he had gone to New York city for a conference with Colonel George A. Johnson relative to sewage disposal problems.

He is not expected to return to the city until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week as an extensive investigation tour is planned thru plants in the east.

RAIN MISSING FROM FORECAST

Prophets get no credit for fulfillment of predictions, but when they are in error, criticism is piled on. The weatherman becomes discouraged at times.

The satisfaction of knowing that he isn't always wrong has its compensation, however.

It has been said that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country." The weather forecaster is very likely consigned to that class.

Admission is made by all and sundry that predictions during the past few days have been generally correct, but nobody takes the trouble to congratulate the forecaster.

Fair tonight and Saturday and somewhat warmer Saturday is the prediction released Friday. Indications are that the conclusion will be borne out. At any rate, most everyone is glad it isn't a rain forecast.

Ottawa river is recovering from the effects of continued freshets, which have been valuable in that high waters have cleared the channel of offensive sewage.

WEINFELD RECOVERING

Sam Weinfeld, who a month ago was subjected to an operation at St. Rita's hospital, is on the road to recovery, according to announcement from that institution Friday. Relief is maintained at the hospital that Weinfeld will fully recover and soon be able to leave the institution, sisters there say.

POLICE, CITIZENS IN MAN HUNT

Armed Negro Eludes Pursuers in Exciting Chase

Police scoured the eastern part of the city Thursday evening, in search of a negro who is said to have threatened citizens near McCullough's lake, with a pistol.

The negro is believed to have been released as an employee from the B. & O. shops.

A report to police headquarters saying that a colored man with a gun was annoying people in the vicinity where he was seen, brought half the department to the scene after the negro had succeeded in eluding two officers.

He was last seen east of Twin lakes. He crossed the premises of Mark Gross, R. D. 2, where he was seen by Gross' children and by Charles Kiser, working in a hay field. The negro ran thru a ravine to the southeast and is believed to have crossed High-st road. All trace was lost at dusk near the rear of the fair grounds.

Hundreds of people in autos joined police in the pursuit. Reports that several persons, including a policeman, had been shot by the negro, increased interest in the man hunt.

RAINS RUIN DETOURS; AUTO CLUB TROUBLE CAR GETS CALLS FOR SUCCOR

Heavy rains during the past week have made impassable the detour on the state road between Lakeview and Russell Point. Motorists have reported to the Lima Auto club. Two calls for help came from motorists stuck on the road Friday and the club service car was sent to the rescue.

Condition of the detour has been reported to the state highway department and a new temporary detour established. Reports from club members state that the new detour is in more frightful condition than the one abandoned.

Construction is under way on the main road. Under terms of state contracts, the contractor agrees to maintain detours in condition for travel, Auto club officers say.

POLICE GET APPEAL TO BREAK UP MELON THEFTS

Watermelons comprised loot secured by youngsters who broke into B. & O. box cars at the L. E. & W. junction every evening between 5 and 8 p. m., according to a report made Friday to police by Chief Sevier of the B. & O. police department. An appeal was made to police to assist in breaking up the practice.

COPPERS TO GET NEW ORDNANCE

Colt 38-Calibre Weapons to Replace Old Guns

Lima cops will soon be sporting new "shooting irons."

Thirty-five shiny new Colt 38-caliber weapons of up-to-date pattern, special police make, will be distributed as soon as an order placed by City Purchasing Agent Osgood is filled.

Old weapons of the department will be sold to the highest bidder.

Sealed proposals for them will be invited soon, Chief of Police Lanker said.

Most of the guns now in use are antiquated and rendered unfit for service by long use. A few of the officers carry their own revolvers, but they also will be ditched for the new weapons. Uniformity of guns in the department is a valued feature, Lanker said, for oftentimes when two more men go out on the same job, has been found impossible to distinguish the caliber of the revolver.

A $300 appropriation for new police ordinance is contained in the budget recently adopted by the commission.

FORETHOUGHT

"Prudent care for the future"

CONVERSATION with a naturalist the other day, we learned of a species of western woodpecker that drills holes in tree trunks and then plugs them with acorns. Later the ground is covered with snow, but the bird has put his food where it cannot be snowed under.

"This instinct," said the naturalist, "sounds like forethought, and in a way it is, for Nature has used the experience of the race to provide against food shortage. Nobody can say how many birds may have gone hungry before the race learned this lesson. It is a kind of forest civilization."

Human civilization also progresses when mankind really learns its lessons from experience.

For example, man carried his burden of risk alone for thousands of years—each man for himself. Time and again he would see the results of years of work swept away in a few hours. At last he began to think ahead.

From reflecting on the disasters that had passed he commenced to consider those that had not yet come. He knew that they were sure to come somewhere. He also realized that they need not crush if the loss might be distributed.

Then he had an inspiration: he invented Insurance.

Fire Insurance is the triumph of Forethought. It means the necessity of human progress by enabling people to plan their future in safety.

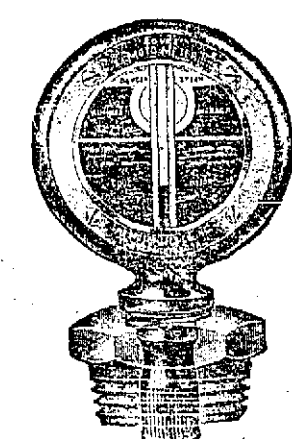

When a man takes insurance he applies this Forethought to his own affairs.

FOREIGNERS FILL GERMAN SCHOOLS

Students From Abroad Constitute 25 Percent of Enrollment

SEEK TO STEM FLOW

Marked Growth in Attendance at Teuton Universities

BERLIN — Accommodations at most of Germany's universities and technical high schools have been so severely cramped since the war by increasing enrollments that steps are being suggested for stemming the rising percentage of foreigners. Students from abroad are estimated to constitute 25 per cent of the registration.

A leader in the movement to restrict the foreign influx states that in his lecture room he has noted from 50 to 100 non-Germans, made up principally of Bulgarians, Rumanians, Russians, Hungarians, Jugoslavs and South Africans. He declares the preparation of these "outsiders" frequently is insufficient and that their conduct often leaves much to be desired. While emphasizing the need of some curtailment in the enrollment and favoring action against foreigners to this end, he observes that caution should be exercised to avoid political or diplomatic embarrassment thru too stringent procedure.

INCREASE 20 PER CENT
Enrollment in German universities as a whole has shown an increase of 20 per cent since the war and that of the technical high schools has been more than doubled. Just before the war there were 60,000 university students in Germany. At the armistice the aggregate jumped to 80,000. There has since been a slight falling off, the summer of 1921 registering 87,147 and the present semester 82,668.

Technical high schools of the country were handling 12,000 before the war. In the autumn of 1920 their students numbered 22,976 and last winter 25,556.

While the knowledge that the war resulted in a greater need for learning in the younger generation, rather than causing demoralization and frivolous living, has proved gratifying to the Germans, there is a disturbing factor in that "kultar" studies have suffered declining fascination. Compared with the figures for 1914, the present statistics for universities show decreases in the enrollments for Evangelical and Catholic theology and for philosophy. Medicine, the most popular in 1914, also has proved less attractive, altho dentistry students have more than doubled and there has been a slight increase in chemistry. The would-be physicians now number 15,110, whereas in 1914 there were 16,048.

ECONOMICS POPULAR

Political economy leads the list in the numbers of university students enrolled and in percentage of gain over 1914. This branch has 17,714 at work, as compared with 3,836 in the last pre-war year. The study of law comes next with a registration of 16,834, as compared with 9,840. Mathematics and physical science have attracted 9,257, an increase of 1,125.

In the technical schools the greatest number have flocked to mechanical engineering, which 8,306 now are studying as compared with 3,118 in 1914. Electrical science has 5,129 enrolled, against 1,307 before the war. There are 3,735 in mathematics and physical sciences in these schools, and 3,311 in constructing engineering, as compared with 1,544 and 2,767, respectively. Mining and smelting have registered a gain from 576 to 1,234. Architecture, alone, in the technical schools, has shown a decline, the enrollment dropping from 2,193 to 1,811.

Of 22 universities mentioned in current statistics only four have shown a smaller enrollment than in 1914.

WANTED! ONE KING

Albania Needs Ruler—One With Lots O' Money

TIRANA, Albania.—(By Associated Press)—Since Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, the American great-nephew of Napoleon I, declined the Albanian throne, last December, the Albanian government has been casting about for a suitable king or regent.

Offers have been made to Prince Cyrille of Bulgaria, and to the Duke of Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, but they are reported to have shown no disposition to accept.

A small minority of Albanians is now clamoring for the return of Prince William of Wied who held the throne for a brief period in 1914, but most of the inhabitants of the country would like to see the crown given to a wealthy American or a titled Briton and the Duke of York's name is prominently mentioned.

HALF DOZEN FALL IN LAW'S TOILS

Total of Nineteen Liquor Cases for the Week

4 IN DEVORE HOME RAID

Two for Drunkenness, One for Possession Deny Guilt

Arrest of four men Thursday night on charges of drunkenness led to an accusation of liquor possession against Noah Devore, 33, of 224 S. Central-av. Friday in criminal court.

Joe Gaagi, 38, of 769 Oak-st; J. C. Sanders, 34, of 657 Harrison-av and John Makin, 39, of 915 S. Main-st, are, alleged by police to have attended a booze party at the Devore home.

Devore denied the possession charge and trial was set for July 19 at 3:30 p. m. Bond of $200 was not furnished. Gaagi and Devore admitted drunkenness and the former was committed for a previous offense. He pleaded guilty Thursday to intoxication and was fined $15. He was given time to get the money at home, but failed to show up and spent the money at Devore's for liquor, police say. He has not been sentenced on the second charge.

Sanders and Makin pleaded not guilty and trials set, respectively, for 4 and 4:15 p. m. Friday.

$50 IS STOLEN

According to an allegation by C. D. Burkholder, who resides in the same house with Devore, the latter sold him liquor.

Burkholder said $50 was stolen from him, but does not know who took it. He has been subpoenaed to appear at Devore's trial.

A quart of liquor was seized, according to police, when the Devore habitat was raided.

J. S. Tuttle, 59, Harrod House, and Frank Miller, 47, no address, were given $15 fines when they pleaded guilty to intoxication.

These arrests increase the total for the week to 19, a high mark since prohibition became effective. The carnival of drunkenness is attributed by police to "unloading" by some unknown bootlegger at prices less than heretofore charged. The rush for the "bargains" may be protracted, it is believed, by headquarters.

MASTER ARTISTS MADE FLAPPERS OF PAINTED ANGELS; BOBBED HAIR

NEW YORK — "There is nothing so modern about bobbed hair," is the unanimous opinion of the librarians in the Metropolitan Art Museum.

"Fifty per cent of the Renaissance angels wore their hair that way." To back up this statement the librarians can furnish volumes of reproductions of the works of Fra Angelico, Botticelli, Michael Angelo and hosts of Dutch and German masters containing whole armies of angels, half of whom are equipped with clipped locks.

The Renaissance "bob" was slightly longer than the present one, reaching almost to the shoulder. In many cases it was excellently modeled and one of the master pieces of Meozza Da Forli looks like the forerunner of the combination bob and permanent wave.

DYE EMBARGO CONSIDERED
WASHINGTON — The senate turned to the dye embargo provision of the tariff bill today, putting aside the cotton schedule, with prospects of a vigorous fight before the embargo section is finally settled.

MEXICAN BANDIT RAID ON OIL CAMP — YOUNG ROCKEFELLER INJURED — NEWS PHOTOS

MEXICAN BANDIT VISITS AMERICAN OIL CAMP FOR TRIBUTE—Gorrasave, famous Mexican bandit snapped as he entered the Aquada camp of the Cortez Oil Corporation to demand 15,000 pesos to prove revolution. On his left, hands on hips, is the famous "The Yaqui." Fifty Americans in the camp were prisoners, but were not molested.

IMPERFECT SUT! A RAID—AND A RIDE!—Chicago bathing beauties rebel strenuously over the decrees as one-piece bathing suits from the public beaches. The combined efforts of the police department, park and special bathing beach police were enlisted to enforce the ordinance. The picture above shows two number of beauties who insisted they were within their rights and were arrested in a beach raid. They strenuously against being taken for a ride in "the wagon." But resistance to the burly police squad proved OIL KING'S GRANDSON WOUNDED—Nelson Rockefeller, 14, son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., doesn't mind the hospital so much when his mother comes to read to him. He was wounded in the knee when a rifle bullet he fired at the ground rebounded.

TO RUSSIA—Mrs. Charles M. Willoughby will soon leave Washington to join her husband who is with the American Relief in Russia.

NEW RADIO DEVICE—A new radio phone is just like an ordinary desk telephone except the carpiece of the radio is located where the mouthpiece is on the phone. Pretty handy when the boss or the stenographer wants to know how the ball game's going.

BILL TAFT PIPES GEORGE HARVEY'S LID—Pope George Harvey's gray topper! Ain't it the hen's cackle? Ex-President Taft (on Harvey's left) and Mrs. Taft went to see George Washington's home at Sulgrave Manor, England, but the ambassador's hat detracted their attention considerably.

LARGEST YACHT ON THE MISSISSIPPI—The North Star, Dr. Wm. J. Mayo's $100,000 yacht, just after it had been launched at St. Paul. It is 120 feet long, with a 23-foot beam, the largest screw-propelled boat on the Mississippi.

PHANTOM BLAMED FOR BIGAMY

Ex-Pastor Says He Was Haunted by Ghost Vamp

WEIRD DEFENSE PROPOSED

California Man Has Four Wives When Arrested

(BY JACK JUNGMEYER)
LOS ANGELES.—(Special) —
Court by the dead.

Beseiged day and night by the phantom of a matron who had killed herself for love of him—a posthumous love more powerful than the love of living women.

Desperate efforts thru drugs and amours to shake off the ghastly infatuation.

This is the weird defense Donald D. Stewart, one-time clergyman and prominent moral crusader of California, will make when he is brought to trial in Boston on charges of bigamy, grand larceny and conspiracy.

Stewart and one of his alleged wives, Mrs. Ethel O. Baldwin Stewart, were arrested near Los Angeles by Pinkerton detectives on Eastern warrants.

"This woman, while proclaiming him a Jekyll-Hyde, is standing loyally by the former pastor, corroborating his tale of occult terror and saying, 'His last three marriages all were performed while he was under the influence of drugs'."

HAUNTED BY LOVELOORN GHOST For seven years, Stewart asserts, he has been haunted by Mrs. Ethel O. Baldwin, Hayward, Cal., who he declares committed suicide because of unrequited love for him.

Explanatory notes were left, and the scandal that ensued resulted in the then fighting pastor being dismissed by the Presbyterian church.

"His spirit has flitted between me and happiness," explains the cultured, fascinating heartbreaker, as he is pictured by those making the charges.

"Every night since that tragedy the woman's wraith has trooped with stealthy, accusing foot steps outside my door."

"Women used to say I had fascinating ways. They were the ways of desperation. Anything to counteract that creeping presence. It followed me everywhere. There was no peace. It was while so haunted that I went from bad to worse in marriage ventures."

There it is, a tale told in the Los

STEWART AND ONE OF HIS WIVES

DONALD D. STEWART, ALLEGED BIGAMIST, AND MRS. ETHEL O. BALDWIN STEWART, ONE OF THE WOMEN HE IS SAID TO HAVE WEDDED.

Los Angeles jail—one to intrigue the successors of Edgar Allan Poe as well as to interest the law.

At the time he was untraveled Stewart, it is charged, was married and the father of three children. He left them to go East and in Wilmington, Del., married again, he asserts, "seeking forgetfulness."

WEDS AGAIN IN NEW YORK "When in New York I met Mrs. Ethel O. Baldwin, the most inspiring influence in my life, whom I afterwards wedded. I married three others."

The asserted wife who was arrested with Stewart is declared by detectives to have posed as his sister and secretary, to have abetted his subsequent marriages and to have conspired with him in wheedling money from various brides, as is charged. Psychologists who have had Stewart, alias Brown, alias MacGregor, under observation declare him to be a striking case of dual nature: One a Jekyll of honor, integrity, brains and honest desire to uplift his fellows; the other a Hyde of sinister promptings.

"Perhaps I am," says he. "If so, it was because of the woman who haunted me."

REVIVAL OF INTEREST IN AIR GLIDER SEEN

NEW YORK — Revival of American interest in the aerial glider, which dropped from prominence when the Wright brothers produced their first motor driven plane, was predicted by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America today, in announcing that three young Americans would sail for France tomorrow with their newly designed glider to take part in the first international gliding contests to be held in August at Clermont-Ferrand. The trio — Edmund T. Allen of Chicago, Harry C. Karcher, of Mansfield, O., and Otto C. Koppen, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., built their glider at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where they are students.

DEBS HAS BREAKDOWN

CHICAGO — Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, could not be found in Chicago early today, altho his son Theodore, said over long distance telephone from Terra Haute, Ind., he was sure his father had arrived here for treatment for a nervous breakdown. It was thought fatigue and a desire to avoid newspaper men led Mr. Debs to spend the night away from the sanitarium.

CRUDE OIL STORES

Crude oil stores by fifteen of the leading eastern pipe lines at the close of June were 18,512,511 barrels, against 14,425,204 barrels on the same day last year, according to the Derriek American Petroleum Institute estimates the daily average gross crude oil production in the United States for the week ending July 8 at 1,450,550 barrels, against 1,454,200 barrels for the preceding week.

PALESTINE BOOMS WITH INDUSTRY

Commercial Development of Holy Land Progressing Rapidly

JERUSALEM — (Associated Press) — The industrial development of Palestine under the Jews is moving forward in leaps and bounds, and this in spite of the many trade quarrels that have sprung up of late between the employer and the employer.

During the past year no less than 4,000 licenses were issued for new trades and industries in Palestine. The extent of this development can be judged from the fact that prior to 1921 only 2,500 licenses were registered by the government. This means that nearly two-thirds of the enterprises in Palestine were started within the last year.

The capital invested in each of these new ventures ranges from $20,000 to $50,000, but with such notable exceptions as the Silicate company of Jaffa, with a capital of $500,000, and the Standard Oil Company, now exploiting the Dead Sea Basin.

A tract of 500 acres of land has been bought by British Jewish interests and will be devoted to home and factory building, while American interests are starting a building and loan association and a savings bank. A casino, two bathing establishments and electric lights are among the attractions of an "American" seaside resort which has sprung up on the sands stretching to the North of Jaffa.

ENVER PASHA'S DRIVE ON RED ARMY FAILURE

MOSCOW — (Associated Press) — The campaign against the Soviet regime in Bokhara, Turkistan and Khiva, headed by Enver Pasha, Turkish Communist, is ending in disaster, according to advices to the newspaper Pravda. The Bokhara Red army, assisted by the Russians defeated Enver's detachments near Bism and on July 2 the pick of Enver's forces led by him were defeated near Karatagh, losing more than 200 killed. After this disaster Enver is declared to have fled into the mountains with the remainder of his army.

GLORIA NOT VAMP

Film Star Will Testify Concerning Her Stepfather

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — (Associated Press) — Gloria Swanson, motion picture actress was expected to here today and testify that she considered Matthew F. Burns, her stepfather, of sound mind when he willed his $100,000 estate to her mother, Mrs. Adaline Burns.

The court ruled the film actress and her mother engaged in neither of the conspiracies alleged by Burns' sister, Mrs. Margaret Graham, and other of the shoe merchant's relatives, thus disposing of what has been unofficially known as "ing" accusations against Mrs. Burns.

With those charges out of the way there remained only to make the mental state of Burns when he made the will.

COMFORT STATION
PLANS REVAMPED

Will Cost $3,000 More Than Original Draft

RECEIVE BIDS AUGUST 14

Commissioners Plan to Speed up Improvement

New plans and specifications for an underground comfort station at the court house are in the hands of the board of county commissioners.
The station as redesigned by Frank Leach, of Leach & Leach, architects, will cost almost $3,000 more than the one first planned.
Bids on the station will be received at the office of the commissioners at noon, August 14. Commissioners are of the opinion that with the estimated cost increased, contractors will find no trouble in submitting prices well within the estimate.
At a former letting none of the three firms bidding were able to get under the $11,373 estimate.
FEW CHANGES MADE
Plans for the station as redrawn are practically the same. Considerable more allowance is made for detail work. Size of the station will be about the same as in the initial plans.
A more liberal estimate is allowed for plumbing. Material and design are unchanged.
"We are getting a station at a low cost, if it is under $14,000," said
A. J. Gray, commissioner. "For Wayne spent $27,000 on a station, and Allentown, Pa., spent $40,000 for one similar to ours, but somewhat larger."
Commissioners say all material to be used will be first-class.
There is no use putting up a station, they say, unless it is first-class.

"The Tattooed Arm" will GET YOU! This marvelous mystery story by Isabel Ostrander starts in The Lima News, Monday, July 17.

PROGRESS HALTED BY POWER LACK

Lima Needs More Electric Current for Factories

JOHNSON MAKES SURVEY

Ohio Power Co. Expected to Remedy Situation

Abundant electric power is all that is holding Lima back and keeping this city from getting its full quota of factories, J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce believes.

He has reached his conclusion after interviewing a large number of factory representatives bent on finding a suitable location for their plants now operating in other cities.

These representatives are delighted with the location of Lima with relation to railroad facilities. Lima can be easily reached from all directions and can quickly obtain raw materials of all kinds.

POWER IS LACKING

When an investigation of electric power possibilities is made, however, the prospective manufacturers throw up their hands in despair. All other advantages fade away before the bugaboo of "no power."

Mansfield, Canton, Akron and Youngstown have no better railroad facilities than Lima, yet their development has been phenomenal. This is largely due to the large supply of power available, Johnson believes.

Every type and size of factory is deeply interested in the power question. All need electricity in one form or another. They are attracted to the cities where it can be obtained.

Small factories must rely upon central power plants because they have not the capital to install generating outfits of their own. Electric power is the most efficient for their class of work. It has been found.

Large factories use sufficient electricity to make possible the erection of their own plants, but where changes are to be made most factories do not desire to go to the expense if the power can be brought to their doors.

In seeking factories for Lima, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce have found that lack of power facilities here is decided handicap and several factories have been lost because power was not immediately available.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN

Efforts of the Ohio Power Co. to obtain a franchise for Lima is looked upon by business men as presaging a better day for Lima's industries and an attractive "bait" for home-based factories, Johnson finds.

These factories, all other things being equal, would rather locate in one of the smaller cities than a large one. Home conditions are better and the values are better satisfied, Johnson finds.

Settlement of the power franchise by the city commission is expected to bring a large number of factories to Lima and will mean a long and steady growth.

CONFER ON BONUS

Harding and Lodge Will Discuss Legislative Situation

WASHINGTON — Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican floor leader, will confer today with President Harding regarding the senate legislative situation, particularly the soldiers' bonus bill.

Thru Senator Lodge, Republican

senators expect to learn whether the president desires to discuss the subject with a few of the leaders most interested in the soldiers' bonus legislation. It is hoped to develop, senators said, whether the president was disposed to veto the Fordney-McCumber bonus measure in its present form.

Some Republican senators have expressed the hope that the bill could be presented so as to meet any objections of the president and that conferences between leaders and the president might be conducive to this end.

CHURNGOLD NOW IN THE STORES

FOR several years "Churngold" has been sold in Lima from wagons only. Necessarily, it has been obtainable by only a limited number — those living on these wagon routes. Many people have heard of its good qualities from their friends who use it, and have wanted it—and now they can get it.

Now in accordance with the general policy of The Ohio Dairy Company to sell all the products they manufacture and distribute, thru the retailer only, the wagon service has been discontinued, and "Churngold" will be placed with the leading Grocery Stores.

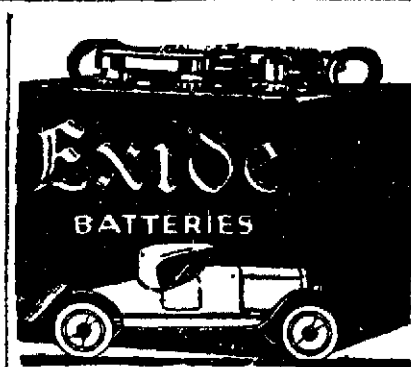

"Churngold" will be supplied daily to dealers in Lima and adjacent territory, where you can get it fresh and sweet. The following is a partial list of retailers here who are now stocked with "Churngold" and ready to serve you. Others will be added every day.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Malisilf coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and heats anything else all to pieces. You can get Malisilf at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Malisilf in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Malisilf. —Adv.

SENATOR DEFENDS DIRECT PRIMARY

Copper Opposed to Harding's Criticism of New System

URGES GREATER EXTENSION

Would Select National Committeemen by Popular Vote

(BY HARRY B. HUNT)

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Extension of the primary law, rather than its repeal, must be secured if popular government is to be perpetuated, says Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, of Kansas, head of the farm bloc and recognized as a national progressive leader.

Evidence of a careful, systematic propaganda to undermine public confidence in state primary laws with a view to bringing about their repeal and a return to the selection of candidates by party conventions is seen under the recent criticism of primaries by President Harding, Secretary of War Weeks and Senator Watson of Indiana.

"I cannot go along with the president, Weeks and Watson," Capper declares. "Instead of abolishing or limiting the primary, it must be extended."

"I hope to see the day when nominations for president will be by popular primary. When that day comes we shall be getting on toward a really popular government. The people must have more voice, not less voice, in their government and in the selection of men who make and administer the laws."

NATIONAL COMMITTEE—

SEN FIRST
"One of the first steps in extending the primary should be selection of national committeemen by popular vote. That would give the rank and file of the parties a voice. It has none now."

"Of course the reason for the dissatisfaction of party leaders with the primaries is not hard to find. Result of recent primary elections in which the people have rejected 'organization' candidates and nominated men of their own choice, has upset them."

"They blame the system. Yet the fact that the primary gave the voters a chance to name their own choice instead of having a hand-plek organization candidate forced on them in the best possible endorsement of the primary principle.

"If the people are not to have a voice in the nomination of their candidates for office, why should they have a voice in their election?"

"If popular elections are to stand, nominations by primary must stand. No other plan comes near to providing popular government."

KANSAS FOR EXAMPLE
"Take for instance my state before the time of state primaries. The conventions were dominated by the railroad, stockyard and liquor interests."

"These interests combined to control and did control the results in both Republican and Democratic conventions. They decided who the nominees should be in both parties."

"After that, the people could elect whoever they chose. With their candidates hand-picked for them they had no freedom of selection. Nominations for governors, legislators, even for Supreme Court justices, were directed by corporate influences, not by the free will of the people."

"Four times out of five, the primary is more important than the election. For in many states a minority party candidate has no chance whatever. The nominees of the majority party are assured of election. If the primary is eliminated, so the voter has no voice in the selection of his party's nominee, he has no voice in the election."

FAIR FOR POOR MAN
"It may be true that there are times when a poor man is at a disadvantage under the primary system. But the nomination of Colonel Smith Breakhart in Iowa as a candidate for United States senator shows a man can be nominated without spending large sums of money. If he has the people's confidence and they want him."

"Secretary Weeks, it seems to me, out-Holshoviched the Bolshevik in declaring popular government a failure."

"With all the unrest and discontent now current, this is a poor time to talk about taking from the people their primaries. Rather, we should be studying how to extend them."

"Not less popular government but more popular government is what we need."

ORIGIN OF ALL MYSTERY

Sheriff Suspects Enemies and Seeks Truth

NORMAN, Okla. — (United Press)

A guard was today placed around the alleged haunted house in which J. L. Wagoner and his wife lived here, following twelve mysterious fires in the house in the past two days.

Fires have burst out in all parts of the house during all hours of the day.

past two days and nights, according to Wagoner.

Bed clothing has become ignited in rooms where there were no occupants. Clothes closets have been discovered in flames hours after any member of the family was near. Two fires broke out on the roof and to cap the climax, a wet wash rag, hanging in the kitchen, burst into flames. All of the conflagrations were extinguished before serious damage resulted.

The famous Antagonish, Canada, ghost episode was recalled by local citizens who visited the "haunted house" today when they were unable to ascertain the origin of the mysterious blazes. Mysterious fires reported in a sick room at Alva, Okla., several months ago, were also recalled.

Sheriff Will Newblock, who ordered the guard placed around the house, said he believed the fires had been started by enemies of Wagoner, seeking his life. Newblock was at a loss, however, to explain how admission could have been gained into the house and the fires set without attracting the notice of inhabitants.

Dr. I. H. Godlove, instructor in the chemistry department of the Oklahoma State University, located here, who visited the scene of the mystery, said the blaze might have resulted from a mixture of phosphorus and bisulphide. Students in Godlove's department at the university today began experiments with chemicals of combustible nature in an effort to find a solution that will act instantaneously and also in an effort to find a solution that could be easily concealed.

TO HONOR STATESMEN

CINCINNATI — In honor of Salmon P. Chase, who served as secretary of the treasury in Lincoln's cabinet and later was chief justice of the United States, a monument is to be erected by the Ohio Bar Association, over the grave of the statesman in Spring Grove Cemetery here. The Ohio association will pay a third of the cost, and the bar associations of Cleveland and Cincinnati, each a third.

M'CORMICKS WILL SAIL FOR EUROPE NEXT WEEK

CHICAGO — Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the executive board of the International Harvester Company, today was enroute to New York from where, it was semi-officially announced, he will sail for Europe July 20. His son, Fowler, and daughters Muriel and Mathilde, the latter engaged to Max Oser, Swiss horseman, will accompany him, it is said.

It was learned yesterday that Miss Muriel McCormick will become a business woman after she returns home the latter part of August. She has purchased a half interest, it was stated, in an exclusive hat and gown shop.

HIGH HEELS FOR WOMEN APPROVED BY DOCTORS

NEW YORK — High heels for health is a motto for women bearing the stamp of approval of the orthopedic specialists of the reconstruction hospital. Wearers of this fashionable dress accessory also were told to walk heel and toe, with the toes pointed straight ahead, in the specialists' report of their investigation. Hospital authorities also approved the use of high heeled slippers with bathing suits to avoid weak or flat feet.

TOURISTS THROG FARGO CAMP

Hundreds Seeking Pleasures of Road Stop in North Dakota

HEAD FOR WESTERN PARKS

Nearly 500 Spent Night There in One Month

FARGO, N. D. — (Associated Press).—Americans at play—many hundreds of them—are coming thru Fargo in a motley procession of automobiles this summer.

They stop for the night at the tourist camp in the woods overlooking the meanders of the Red River; cook their meals, sing and swap experiences about their camp fires and in the morning pass on.

They are to be found on all the national highways that thread the country and on the byroads as well, chasing romance over to the next hill-top and around the nearest curve all the way from Boston, Mass., to Seattle down to California and back across the South.

It is a far cry from these to their nomadic forebears who drove their herds before them over the pastures of northern Europe hundreds of years ago, but the same lure of strange trails and new places which drove the ancestors is driving the wanderers of today.

HEADED WEST
The tourists who pass through here travel west over the National Parks highway from all the territory between Fargo and the Atlantic and from as far south as the frontiers of Dixie. They travel east from south western Canada and the Pacific coast states. They say they are going to Seattle, California, Yellowstone park or to New York or Washington, D. C. But their heading north is to be on their way—not to arrive.

In June 431 tourists registered at the camp here and on July 1, alone, 60 new arrivals dropped in, according to George G. Hatch, in charge of the camp. Most of them were headed west with their immediate objectives Chautauque's old stamping grounds on the Missouri River and Roosevelt's one time ranch at Medora, N. D., where the "painted hills" and petrified forests of the bad lands are to be seen.

Beside offering them the hospitality of the camp the Fargo Commercial Club provides information, road maps and the use of a rest room. Nearly all of the pilgrims are "nice, intelligent, communicative people—doctors, business men, retired merchants, lawyers," according to Mr. Hatch. "They like to ask questions and tell you what they have seen." Persons from other walks of life also help to swell the procession.

WEAR SPORT CLOTHING
The women folk for the greater part wear nickers or bloomers and wrap leggings or golf stockings. All of those wanderers who stop at the camp carry tents. Many are equipped with canvas stoves while others use the brick fireplaces of the camp ground on which to cook their meals.

Most of the cars used are of the moderately priced varieties, according to Mr. Hatch, but not all. One party, traveling in two cars of the earliest manufacture came through recently. These carried a refrigerator with their equipment.

There is an comradeship among the tourists and between them and the caretakers of the camps. A hail serves as a presentation, and introductions are dispensed with.

After supper, tourists frequently gather about the camp fires to tell of the day's experiences and fight mosquitoes, even as their shepherd forebears did centuries ago—but unlike these they also compare tires, mileage and motors.

SERVICE RULING DOES NOT AFFECT EMPLOYEES OF LIMA POSTOFFICE

Postoffice regular and classified substitute clerks and city mail carriers in service October 1, 1920, will be accorded credit for any military service they may have given. A. E. Gale, postmaster, has been notified.

This ruling extends the former ruling from June 5, 1920 to the later date and while it affects many employees throughout the country, it will add none of Lima's postal workers, Gale says.

A number of workers were added by the former ruling which stated that all of the above clerks employed by the postoffice on June 5, 1920 would be given credit for military work just as if they had been working for the postoffice continuously.

Under this ruling several Lima employees were able to obtain the full $1,500 a year wage immediately.

A day in the military service was counted as one day in the postal service and many obtained seniority rights in this way.

As no new postal workers were added between June 5 and October 1, 1920, none will be affected here by the recent ruling and have their salaries increased.

NEW YORK PICKPOCKETS, SPECULATORS, POLICE LEARN

NEW YORK.—The modern pickpocket in New York is a specialist. He invests a little change in the hope of getting large returns. And here, according to that fountainhead of information, the police, is the way he does it.

Having selected a potential victim, the pickpocket drops a coin in front of him. Then he calls the stranger's attention to it, solicitously inquiring if perhaps he did not drop the coin. More often than not the stranger reaches out to pick up the money, and stoops over to pick up the money. Whereupon the pickpocket lifts the wallet from the stranger's hip-pocket.

SIGMAN, ALLEGED FORGER NOT TO BE RETURNED HERE
No effort will be made by police here to secure Leo Sigman, 25, arrested in Indianapolis on a forgery charge, giving his address as Lima, according to Chief of Police T. A. Lankier.

Sigman was picked up here three weeks ago under suspicion of being a forger, but there was no evidence, Lankier said, that he possessed any worthless checks. A number of checks were found in his pockets.

MARTIAN SEASONS BEING STUDIED

Nearness of Planet at Present, Conducive to Research

LOWELL THEORIES PROVED

Vegetation on Satellite Attracts University Observers

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz.—(Associated Press).—Members of the staff of Lowell Observatory here are elated over recent studies of the planet Mars which, they assert, bear out the theories of the late Percival Lowell, founder of the observatory, as to snowfall and vegetation on the little red planet.

Mars, nearest neighbor of this world with the exception of Venus, is closer to the earth now than at any time in 18 years. Observations have been in progress for the past five months each hour of every night that weather conditions would permit. Hundreds of photographs and charts have been made.

SEASONS LONGER
The seasons on Mars have the significance as on our earth and occur in the same manner, but are about twice the length of our own, according to Doctors E. C. and W. M. Slipher of the observatory staff.

A statement by them on the results of the latest observations here follows: "Winter has been occurring in the southern hemisphere of the planet Mars and the extensive dark areas there are now faint and have been so for some time, betokening the dead season of vegetation in conformity with the view held by Lowell regarding the seasonal changes on the planet."

"The large winter cap of white about the south pole of Mars, which for some months has appeared to consist of only mist or cloud covering the south polar regions of the planet down to latitude forty degrees, is now dissipating and disclosing a mantle of snow beneath. The spring season for the southern hemisphere is now approaching, the season there at present corresponding to our March 21, and the changes are characteristic of late winter over the north of Mars."

NOTE THE STORM
"In the northern hemisphere autumn is arriving and the polar cap there has already become conspicuous, having increased rapidly during the last few Martian nights. On the night of June 17 it was observed that when the planet's longitude 265 came into Martian sunrise, and therefore visible to us, that a vast area there had during the preceding night been covered by a bright canopy. This bright hood faded off toward the equator, but was discernible down nearly to fifty degrees north latitude and veiled the darker markings of the northern part of the planet. This event marked the first really big autumn storm in the northern hemisphere of Mars so far this year. On that date the Martian season corresponds to our September 18. Early indications of autumn made their appearance a month and a half ago at a Martian season corresponding to our late August. These observations have been recorded on photographs.

"These conditions and changes occurring in unison with the planet's seasons indicate that conditions are more analogous to those of the earth than to any of the other planets."

ident of the organization announced today.

The strike is effective next Monday, July 17, at 8 a. m. The call was made in compliance with the recent referendum which favored a walkout, Mr. Healy said.

The text of the message to all locals of the organization follows: "In compliance with your strike vote which is $8.6 per cent favoring a walkout, sanction is hereby granted to each and every member of our brotherhood on all railroads, steam plants, roundhouses and terminals throughout the United States to suspend work at 8 a. m., Monday, July 17, 1922."

"Timothy Healy, "International President." Stationary firemen and others on several roads had already joined in a sympathetic walkout with the railway shop crafts.

"We are into the fight and we intend to win," Mr. Healy said.

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (Associated Press).—Prospects for an early settlement of the national strike of railway shopmen on the basis of informal negotiations conducted in conferences here between union leaders and representatives of various railroads centering in the Twin Cities and the Northwest, were very good, in the opinion of union men and railroad executives.

Confidence that the end of the strike, which has threatened to disrupt rail communication is near, was expressed by R. A. Henning, chairman of the Federated Shop Crafts of the Northwest district. Mr. Henning said that "it is entirely possible that the strike will be settled on a national basis in Chicago within the next 48 hours. If these meetings do not lead to a national settlement of the 'walkout,' it is indicated that the informal conference with the 17 roads centering in this section would be resumed in an effort to effect a settlement in the Northwest."

REHEARSALS FOR PAGEANT HELD
Junior Chautauque Active—Many Attend Opening

First rehearsals for the pageant "Conquests of Peace," which will be staged Thursday of next week by the Junior Chautauque, were held Friday at the Chautauque grounds, Elmo and McDonel-sts.

Because of the large number of well trained children here, Miss Ann McElhinny, junior superintendent, is planning the largest pageant, in point of numbers, to be staged on any Chautauque program this year.

A varied entertainment was given Friday afternoon by the Sam Lewis Concert party. Lewis is a well known Welsh tenor. With him are Llan Schuler, violinist and Nell Adams, reader.

A large audience, duplicating those of Thursday, was very well pleased with the program, especially the numbers by Miss Colligan and Miss Adams.

Ada Ward, an Englishwoman, will give her experiences in this country with an intimate discussion of Americans as she sees them, Friday night. She made many serious blunders when she first came to America and tells of them in an interesting way.

"A 100 Per Cent Man" was the title of J. Franklin Babb's address Thursday night. It was an inspirational lecture, full of humor, preceded by a concert by the Apollo Concert company, with their saxophone quartet and gigantic saxophone.

Saturday's program will be given by the Liqueur United Symphony orchestra. A popular concert will be given in the afternoon and a classical program in the evening.

Community singing of sacred songs, known as Cymanfa-Ganu among the Welsh, has been planned by the local Chautauque, committee for Sunday afternoon. Its Longworth, president, announced.

Singing will be led by Dr. Daniel Prothero, who is well known here. Community singing at each performance is being led by Rolla Mikesell.

WOMAN TAKEN ON PEACE WARRANT IS DISMISSED
Anna Connell, 323 N. Main-st., arrested on a peace warrant Thursday was discharged by Justice of the Peace E. M. Bocklin, after he had listened to the story told by Eve Daniels, complainant.

Allegations in the case tended to show that the defendant swore at the plaintiff.

ESTIMATE ON WHEAT SURPLUS
Based on a prospective wheat crop of $17,000,000 bushels, combined with a carry-over in all positions of 74,000,000 bushels and home consumption of 565,000,000 bushels, the Daily Trade Bulletin estimates that there is a surplus of 325,000,000 bushels for the 1922-23 season for export during the year and for carry-over on June 30, 1923.

CONFUSION OF NAMES AND ADDRESSES IN COURT SUIT
Gladya E. Blymyer, of E. Burel-st. denies that she is the same person as Gladya Marie Blymyer, who was divorced from Raymond L. Blymyer by Judge Fred C. Becker in common pleas court.

Mrs. Blymyer formerly resided in 807 W. Market-st., prior to obtaining a divorce, but is not now listed in the directory as a resident of Lima.

RELIGION SOUGHT IN BUSINESS

Questionnaire Planned for British Conference in 1924

TO DETERMINE CHRISTIANITY

Attempt to Take Gospel Into Modern Industry

(BY MILTON BRUNNER)
LONDON.—(Special).—Is modern business Christian? Do people nowadays consider their religion an hour or so Sunday and forget it the rest of the week?

These are questions all Christian churches of Great Britain—Catholic and Protestant—will try to answer at a remarkable conference of cities and experts in April, 1924. A similar conference may be held in the United States.

Questionnaires are being sent out and elaborate plans are being made for the conference. The Rt. Rev. Edmond A. Knox, Bishop of Manchester, is president of the British Conference. The honorary secretaries are a Quaker woman and an Anglican clergyman, and council members include representatives of all evangelical churches and prominent Catholic priests.

THE SUBJECT "Property and Industry" is the principal subject expected to command most serious attention. "The purpose of industry," says the council, "is to supply the needs of the community. In present practice the choice of the consumer, as exercised by the ability to purchase, is the choice of what those who are to be served should produce and service to be put on the market. This choice is considerably influenced by the producers who have their own goods."

Finally a program is set forth which its supporters believe practical and capable of Christianizing industry, and the council asks those who answer the questionnaire consider the program in character and the first step toward a really Christian society. This is the program:

Minimum wage law, with security for workers in case of unemployment. Prevention of casual employment during the summer months. Abolition of labor of children under 14. Fairness for costs and profits in industry. Taxation to correct inequalities of income and of the distribution of property. Administration of monopolies as public services. Social services to able-bodied adults except for service. Democratic control of industry by all engaged in it (by representation).

PRICES based on economic costs; control of credit; labor laws.

THE STUDY The council urges those to whom a questionnaire is sent to investigate and study rather than to pre-judge how far the existing industrial system is Christian or un-Christian. These significant questions are asked:

Can we reach a common Christian agreement concerning—
(a) Injury done to the consumer himself?
(b) Excessive and harmful, but necessary, use of force?
(c) Excessive and harmful, but necessary, use of force?
(d) Excessive and harmful, but necessary, use of force?
(e) Excessive and harmful, but necessary, use of force?

GOOD LOOKS GOOD HEALTH

WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND—That's the answer. Some of you ladies who read this may have complexion disfigured by liver spots and discolorations. If this is the case, don't worry about it and don't use face lotions. Just go to one of the Enterprise Drug Store and get a large bottle of WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND, for only sixty cents. It will clear your complexion by helping to drive from your system the poisonous uric acid that is affecting your liver, stomach and kidneys. A poor, rough, mottled skin isn't due to the sun or weather, but to an upset condition which uric acid usually causes. Go to the root of the trouble. Destroy that and your good looks and health will return.

WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND, is a wonderful preparation for indigestion, biliousness, constipation, headache, rheumatism, malaria, nervousness, kidney troubles — when caused by uric acid poison.

Remember, WENDELL'S SALTS, AMBITION BRAND, is guaranteed by Enterprise Drug Store and dealers everywhere.

It is pleasant to take, acts quickly, and you can get your money back on the first bottle purchased if dissatisfied.—Adv.

Warren Harding spent Independence Day with home folks at Marion, Ohio. His father, Dr. G. T. Harding, killed a plump Plymouth Rock pullet for him. The Dr. is proud of his son, who is becoming very well known down at Washington.

WIFE IS SOUGHT

Queen Wanted for King Boris of Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria. — (Associated Press). — Despairing of finding an American wife for King Boris, Premier Stamboulsky is understood to have asked David Lloyd George to suggest a suitable English match for the lonely monarch. To this the British prime minister is said to have replied humorously that he had not yet been able to find a wife for the Prince of Wales and that Boris would have to wait, as the supply of royal princesses and other titled ladies in Europe seemed to be depleted.

After being asked if he desired to wed an American girl, as suggested by Stamboulsky, the king replied: "Well, not this year, nor next; I'm too busy rebuilding my country and must deny myself all social pleasures and some domestic happiness, but I have great admiration for the American women and I'm sure they make excellent wives."

To the question "Would you prefer a pretty woman rather than a practical one?" the youthful ruler replied with a twinkle in his eye, made the diplomatic response "Well all American girls are pretty, are they not?"

HOLDUP OF POKER GAME CAUSES OFFICER'S ARREST

PENSACOLA, Fla. — A capias was issued yesterday for the arrest of Lieutenant Guy McLaughlin, attached to the naval air station here on a charge growing out of his alleged holdup of a poker game several days ago.

It is charged that McLaughlin, after losing a considerable amount of money in a poker game, withdrew in each hand and demanded that the players return his money. He is said to have been accompanied by a sergeant at the reservation.

GIRL RULES OVER BIG BUILDING

Really Mayor of City Within Walls at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI.—(Special).—On a door on the tent floor of the Dixie Terminal, which is an office building, arcade and street railway terminal in one, is a sign that reads: —MISS ANNA MARCUS BUILDING MANAGER

And inside presides a young woman who from a large mahogany desk rules the community that inhabits the vast building. She is Miss Anna Marcus.

She is, in fact, the mayor of a private town all housed in one building—a town with a Main-st, the arcade, that has in it 50 stores of all kinds. Dixie Terminal it's named. Call it rather "Dixieville."

In Miss Marcus' "Dixieville" there is a union traction depot where 85,000 persons go every day to take street cars for the over-the-river towns in Kentucky.

Over all is the ten-story Dixie office building, at present occupied by 1000 workers and ultimately to be occupied by about 1500 more.

Over this domain Miss Marcus is boss. It is her business to see to it that every room and store in "Dixieville" is populated with none but the desirable.

She watches the windows in the stores of "Dixieville's" Main-st, because under its laws every window must look like its neighbor, with no garish posters.

She makes all contracts for improvements and repairs; she runs the electric service; she bosses the janitors and the scrubwomen and the rest of the working force; she receives the complaints and suggestions of the inhabitants; and collects the rentals.

And in between, she has an eye on the elevators, keeping before her the daily mileage of each elevator and the number of stops each makes, in order to check them up for efficiency and economy.

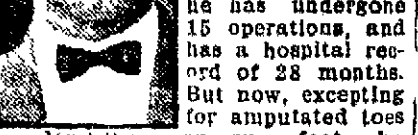

The lady-boss of "Dixieville" gets to work at 9 a. m. and seldom quits before 6; and two or three nights a week she returns to her office for more work after supper.

VET WOUNDED 102 TIMES IN BATTLE

LEXINGTON, KY.—(Special).—Sergeant Samuel Joseph, a vocational trainer here studying telegraphy, has been designated the "most wounded man of the World War."

Joseph went over with the First Division in June, 1917. For the next 17 months he was on the firing line almost continuously, but escaped without a wound.

Then, in a battle just three days before the armistice, he was shot 102 times. Since then, he has undergone 15 operations, and has a hospital record of 28 months. But now, excepting for amputated toes on one foot, he has fully recovered.

JOSEPH on one foot, he has fully recovered.

Circus Dreams and Apple Pie Don't Mix, Boy Finds

TOLEDO.—(Special).—Wayne Shepherd, 12, no longer believes it profitable to mix rosy dreams of a profession as a circus acrobat with too much apple pie.

For Wayne, home from the circus, where the bespangled performers had leaped and twisted on lofty bars, lunched on pie before retiring.

Dreams! Of himself as a circus acrobat, naturally. And, sound asleep, Wayne got up out of bed, removed the screen from his bedroom window and hurled himself in a front somersault out of the second story.

A telephone wire broke as he fell and dropped him, feet foremost, on the ground, unhurt and still asleep. He started back up the cave-spout and was half way up the side of the

URGES TAXPAYER ASSOCIATIONS

Only Effective Means of Swaying Congress, Says Senator

WARNS OF LEGISLATION

Borah Points to Organization For Control of Situation

(BY HARRY B. HUNT)
WASHINGTON — (Special) — Organization of "taxpayers' associations" in every village, township, city and county, thru which the average citizen can make effective his demand for relief from mounting governmental taxes is suggested by Senator William E. Borah, Republican, of Idaho.

"It is only by pressure from 'the folks back home,' Borah says, 'that relief will be secured.' And in order to make the demands of constituents effective on Congress, taxpayers must be organized."

"Once organizations of taxpayers, not single individuals, begin demanding that their representatives here act to relieve their tax load instead of making it heavier, then and only then will they get results."

Borah's suggestion of taxpayers' organizations followed his recent attack on his party's program to put thru a high tariff bill, a soldier bonus measure, a ship subsidy bill and other legislation which he maintains would add to the tax and cost-of-living burden of the average citizen.

WORKS TWO WAYS
"Taxpayers' associations," Borah declares, "would be a distant aid in two ways. They would enable men and women back home to band together in their demands for tax relief in a manner that would force attention of their representatives in Washington."

"And they would also, through the increased discussion and study of tax and other governmental problems, give the people a better understanding of the matters at issue."

"It was a rather black picture I painted in my speech to the Senate but every statement is supported by facts and figures."

"Constant increase of governmental expenditure has reached the point where it breeds revolution. Everywhere, men are denouncing and criticizing their government. The people's faith and patience are nearing exhaustion."

"It is proposed as soon as the tariff bill is out of the way to take up the ship bill subsidy bill. That will provide a drain upon the treasury by a vicious system of tax exemption, in my judgment quite as much as if it voted bonds or obligations of the government."

"After that is to come the soldiers' bonus bill—which will mean an extra burden of from $4,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000."

"If these measures stood alone, we might look upon them with less concern. But they are the expression of what seems to be a deep-seated tendency."

"If all the money were appropriated which by bills has been suggested, or if all the debts were created which such proposed measures would entail, it would place a mortgage upon the brain and the energy of our people which a thousand years could not lift.

CAUSE OF DISCONTENT

"There is already great discontent throughout this country. And when discontent is widespread it is never without justification."

"It is evident the burden government continues to impose upon the people is becoming unbearable. It is getting upon the nerves of the public."

"If the folks back home want to end this condition, the power to do it is within their grasp."

"Individually, they cannot move Congress or the party leaders in charge of legislation."

"Collectively, they can. By organization association of taxpayers, by making their demands in mass instead of separately, Congress can be made to heed."

"It is only through organization that anything is accomplished with Congress. The reason one side is able put its measures through is because it is organized while the opposition is not."

"When the folks back home organize to stop exorbitant and unreasonable governmental expenditures, such expenditures will be stopped."

"Now is the time to act."

TRIAL MOTHER IS CALLED PRIZE

Judge Praises 19 Year Old Girl in Charge of Family

SAN FRANCISCO — (Special) — "These gloomy pessimists who see modern girlhood slipping into the folds of flapperism may well ponder the case of Mary Camela."

The courts made her "legal mother" of a brood of five brothers and sisters. Because of her youth the judge gave her a year for "trial motherhood." With an income of $1 a month from the mother's estate she set out.

The year is up and this is what Mary has just reported to the judge: "An income of $50 a week in addition to the estate money."

A lion child that operates with efficiency expert smoothness. Five healthy, well-fed, well-clad youngsters, far better equipped to face future life than nine out of ten of their comrades.

How did she do it?

"I set right out to organize the home, as tho' it has been a business," explains Mary. "I find lack of organization is what's the matter with many a home."

"First I gave each youngster a certain duty about the house. When that was being efficiently undertaken I found plenty of time to do other things. I could do piecework as an upholsterer. The two oldest boys did various kinds of work."

Eventually Poe, 16, began learning the carpenter's trade. John, 15, became a machinist's apprentice. Peter, 12, when not in school, ran errands in the neighborhood. He intends to study law. Frank, 9, works in a jewelry store after school. Alma, 8, works about the house.

"Their educations are not being neglected," Mary hastens to add. "The three youngest are going to school and in the evenings the other boys study. We have a family reading circle every morning."

"A prize girl mother," says the judge.

To Manager Bingham

DEAR CLARENCE: I am greatly interested in the proposed purchase of an auto-educator for my city. I understand it cleans out catch basins, sprinkles streets, hauls sand, spreads stone or other material on streets, flushes streets, pumps water from sewer trenches and can be used in case of necessity in extinguishing fire.

That's a whole lot for one machine to accomplish, but if the manufacturers will only guarantee that it can make up a deficit my city is facing, provide salaries for firemen and policemen and prevent a threatened financial crash, I'm in favor of the investment, no matter what it costs. We can issue bonds to pay for it, you know.

To City Engineer Miller

DEAR VAUGHN: You did exactly right in deciding to charge contractors $2 each for sets of plans for paving of my streets. Plans in blue print form cost money. Too many persons ask for sets who never expect to bid on the work.

To State Highway Director Herrick

DEAR LEON: It's none of my business in finally, very probably, but just the same I'm glad you have decided that construction of the Dixie highway with brick paving cannot be changed at this late date. In my opinion, it has been proved that this is one of the best materials for main roads these days.

MY DEAR WOMEN: Your invitation to candidates for public office, to meet with you in my public library, July 18 and address the assembly, will quite likely result in numerous "regrets" being received.

You'll be accomplishing a lot if you can persuade all of them to be present and stand up and speak their piece.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

BY BERTON BRALEY

THE GAMBLER

I know that charts statistical
Will show you shouldn't marry Until your honorarium
Is quite extraordinary.
But I am optimistical
About what love can do,
For in its sweet delirium
Most any dream comes true.

So, go ahead and marry her
Before you lose romance,
For love leaps every barrier
If you will take a chance.

Life's brief; you lose the fun of it Unless you share together
Some seasons of fragility,
Some times of heavy weather.
Luck varies—face the run of it
And 'spite of strain and stress,
You'll find . . . life's totality
Foots up to happiness!

So, go ahead and marry her,
Dull figures do not count—
There isn't any barrier
That love cannot surmount.

I know I'm preaching hereby,
So cautious folks repeat,
But if you have a salary
That's big enough to meet Food, rent, and clothes, I swear I see Small reason for delay,
Altho the cynics' gallery
May have a lot to say.

So, go ahead and marry her,
Forget the cautious stuff,
For poverty's no barrier
If you have love enough!

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

LET YOURSELF SWEAT

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

Don't be afraid to sweat during hot weather. Nature intended you to, in order to regulate the temperature of your body and eliminate certain waste materials.

A man of average stature has about 16 square feet of skin with 2,301,245 sweat glands, each sweat gland coil when unraveled being 1-16-inch long, so that a man's sweat-excreting tubes placed end to end would measure two and one-third miles.

The chief purpose of sweating is to regulate the temperature of the body, tho it also serves as a sub-ventage system for the disposal of poisonous waste matter within the body which is not taken care of by the kidneys. When the sweat glands are not functioning properly, there is a greater strain on the kidneys, a rise in body temperature to a fever heat and less resistance to disease. Likewise, when the bowels are not working properly, the sweat glands are called upon to do overtime work.

To keep the sweat glands working well take plenty of baths. Warm baths are especially good to keep pores open and the sweat glands working. One must be careful, however, after warm baths, to avoid catching cold.
Light, loose clothing should be worn in hot weather so as to give the sweat glands full play in throwing off waste matter.

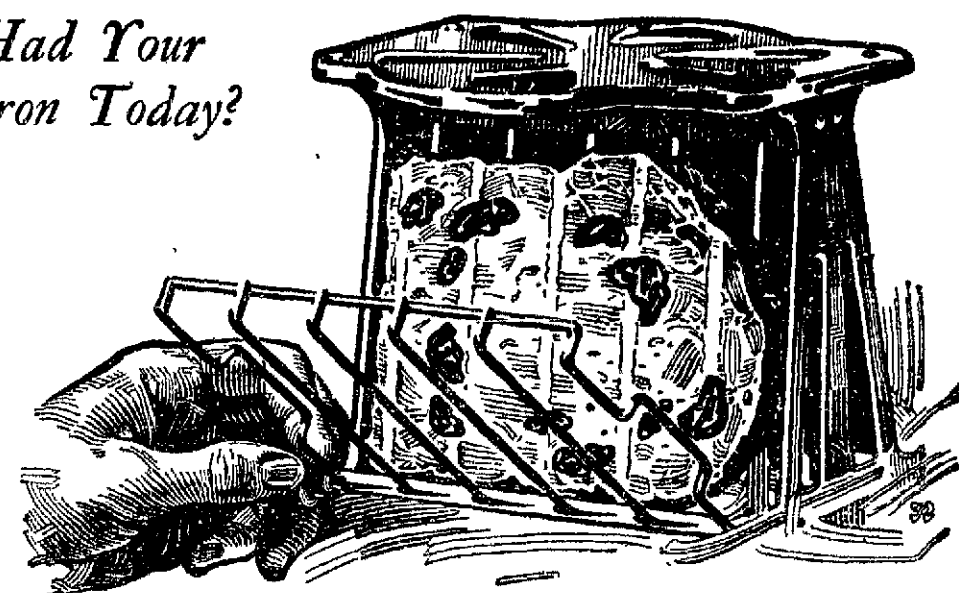

Drink a lot of water. In warm weather it is almost impossible to drink too much water. Ten or 12 glasses a day are not too many. The water should be cool but not iced, and some of it should be taken with the meals, tho not to down half-chewed food.

RIDAY, JULY 14.

WOMAN SLAIN BY ENRAGED WIFE

caused of Tampering With Oil Promoter's Affections

CONFESSES TO HER HUSBAND

Mystery of Horrible Murder Along Road Revealed

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(United Press)—County officials left for Tucson, Ariz., today to bring back Mrs. Phillips, wife of an oil promoter, who is alleged to have beaten to death Mrs. Bert Meadows, pretty young widow. Mrs. Meadows' body was found on a lonely roadside. Police alleged that Mrs. Phillips used a hammer with which she inflicted the fatal blows. Almost incredible details of the crime as told by Phillips, indicated that Mrs. Meadows, employed as a janitor in a bank here met Mrs. Phillips downtown Wednesday afternoon and the two, apparently on good terms, stopped together. Mrs. Phillips purchased a hammer. Later she asked Mrs. Meadows to drive in her automobile to her sister's home, directing her along the road to a scene of the murder.

PHILLIPS WOMAN
Here, according to the story repeated by her husband, she asked Mrs. Meadows to stop and get out of the car. She then accused her of improper relations with Phillips.

Continuing, Phillips said: "Heated words followed and Mrs. Meadows, snatching up the hammer in fury, struck a blow which wounded Mrs. Meadows. In the struggle, Mrs. Meadows rained blows on Mrs. Meadows and finally beat her body. "Then jumping into her victim's automobile, she drove home, hysterically confessing to me 'I've killed the one I loved best.'"

Phillips said he helped his wife wash a blood from her clothes and later went with her, taking the tell-tale car. Somewhere officers found it. Phillips, after putting his wife on the ground, spent the night wandering the streets, reading the newspaper accounts of the horror and finally went to authorities and told the story. The attorney induced him to go to the sheriff.

RAIL CLERKS MAY GET SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY

Lima postoffice clerks who can finish their duties by Saturday noon of each week will be given a half holiday, information from Washington stated Friday.

In a communication to all postmasters, First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett ordered employees given a half holiday, providing they do all the work required of them in the half day they work.

This order is to be enforced at the discretion of the postmaster and the clerks relieved when he is satisfied their duties have been completed, it states.

No action is being taken here, postoffice officials said, until the official copy of the order is received. Action on the order will be delayed until next week and no employees will be given a half holiday on Saturday this week, it was stated.

STORE ROOM AND FLAT PLANNED BY YOUMAN'S

A two story brick on concrete store-room and flat will be constructed at the south-east corner of Bellefontaine and Calumet streets by M. E. Youmans and others interested with him.

There will be one store room downstairs and one flat above. Approximate cost will be $1,000, it was stated by the builders. As soon as possible two more store-rooms and flats will be built adjacent to the structure planned now.

STOCK AND GRAIN GOSSIP

Correspondents of Logan and Bryan (Courtesy of W. A. Rubsam & Co.)

Selling in oils is becoming heavier and reductions in prices seem likely within the next ten days.

Standard Oil of Ohio declared regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on preferred stock, payable September 1.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad placed an order with Baldwin Locomotive Works for 35 Mikado-type locomotives.

Twenty industrials, 94.85; off 23. Twenty rails, 26.47; off .48.

Hogs were from ten to 20 lower; market steady.

Trade in wheat was quiet and the market easier on local selling. Corn was firm, with a good class of commission house buying.

Hogs opened slow and ten to 15 lower; $10.70 to $10.75 paid. Receipts were 27,000.

Cattle receipts were 3,500; sheep 12,000; left overs, 26,452.

HOMEOPATHS OPPOSED TO CHANGES AT OHIO STATE

WASHINGTON—Disturbed by the action of Ohio State University in discontinuing its department of homeopathic medicine, a conference of executives of the American Institute of Homeopaths, called by Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician, and president of the body, was closed in executive session.

Dean Claude A. Burrett, of the Ohio Homeopathic College, was in attendance at the conference.

HEARING POSTPONED
Hearing of applications for a reduction in alimony filed by Herman W. Bowers, who has been paying his former wife Mabel Bowers, 1003 W. North-st, $3 a week for support of their child, was continued by Judge Fred C. Becker, Friday to allow Mrs. Bowers' counsel to present an itemized account of her living expenses.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Strikes may come and strikes may go, stocks may go up or they may go down, but the market for seasoned bonds appears to go on tormented, deviating but slightly from its fixed orbit. There is but one immediately outside factor of which cognizance. That is the rate for money. So long as it remains easy there is scarcely a ripple of uncertainty to be found throughout the entire bond list. The turnover of corporation bonds has climbed steadily for the last three or four days. Yesterday on the New York exchange it crossed the $7,000,000 mark. Consolidated Gas convertible 7s and Erie consolidated 4s were the features in rather an active and firm market.

The main topic of discussion in banking parlors was the reduction in the Bank of England rate and its probable effect on the rate of the New York Federal Reserve bank. Wall Street is divided into two schools of thought on the bank rate. One of these believes that the reserve bank rate should always be above the open market rate for money, overlooking the possibility of banks using governmental or at least semi-governmental credits for their own private uses. The other school takes the opposite view.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad announced that it has placed orders with the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, for thirty-five Mikado type freight locomotives. It is understood the locomotives will be included in the equipment trust already arranged for in connection with the purchase of passenger and other car equipment.

The final step in the plan to merge the Lake Erie and Western railroad with the Nickel Plate is understood to have been taken with the filing of an application with the interstate commerce commission by the Nickel Plate for permission to purchase the stock control of the Lake Erie. The plan involves the holdings of 59,300 shares of preferred stock at $35 a share and 59,400 shares of common at $15 5/8 a share.

200 MORE MEN TO STRIKE HERE

Maintenance of Way Employees Involved, Strikers Say

STAUFFER WANTS DEPUTIES

Idle Men Believe Settlement Will Come Soon

Approximately 200 men will be added to the list of striking railway shopmen in this city within the next few days, it is predicted.

Unofficial information given considerable weight by members of the allied crafts now on strike here, leads to such a belief.

The crafts have been informed, they say, that maintenance of way men here will meet within the next few days to consider overriding the strike order veto issued recently by the international president of the maintenance of way men's organization, in order that they might too walk out.

STRIKE ORDER HELD UP

Maintenance of way men the country over voted recently for a strike, the shopmen say. The strike order, however, was held up by the international president. It would have been effective when the shopmen walked out, had it been issued.

Discussions held recently and meetings that have been called for the near future, the shopmen say, tend to increase prospect of fulfillment of the prediction. Meetings are to be held in Lima within the next day or so, it is said.

Simultaneously with this unofficial announcement, comes word over market wires to the effect that the B. & O. railroad, considered one of the hardest hit by the strike of shopmen, has ordered 35 Mikado type locomotives from the Baldwin Locomotive Works, for freight use. It is understood that the order requests immediate delivery.

Friday found both strikers and railway officials in this city resting on their oars and awaiting developments of national character.

Strikers here laughed at the request of United States Marshal George Stauffer of Ottawa, for 1,400 deputy U. S. marshals for strike duty in this district.

"As far as we are concerned, the railroad officials here might as well remove the guards they now have, at the shops," one of the officials of the allied crafts organization here, said Friday. "We expect to be back at work in the shops soon. We're not going to harm them. Our pickets are being maintained only for the sake of giving us important information and protection."

Relief in the way of a return to almost normal schedules was noted on the B. & O. Friday. Passenger trains were running much closer to regular schedule line than for some days past. The relief is attributed to the increased supply of engines resulting from the annulment of a number of trains on the road.

HOSPITAL HAS COAL

Advices from various points over the state indicating that state institutions would suffer severely from lack of coal, caused by the inability of railroads to ship the fuel, were received here Friday. Information from the Lima State Hospital, however, is to the effect that a supply of coal that will last thru the month of August is on hand there.

H. B. Brown, international vice-president of the Machinists Union and chief advisor for the allied crafts on strike in this district, will be in Lima Monday, strike officials here announced. He will confer with officials and will make a survey of the situation in this city.

AUTO ABANDONED ON ROAD BELIEVED STOLEN

A Cadillac auto believed stolen was reported by R. D. Baxter, justice of the peace at Elida, abandoned on a road north of the village. Investigation of the license number—Ohio-252-864—shows it was issued for a Cadillac Victoria to the R. Thatcher Co., No. 8 Marine building, Toledo. Efforts were made Friday to communicate with the Toledo concern and ascertain whether the machine was stolen. Local police were informed of the find.

DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED
Divorce proceedings instituted in common pleas court by Mrs. Della C. Stipp against John C. Stipp, were dismissed at cost of the plaintiff before Judge Fred C. Becker in common pleas court, Friday.

BOY HELD FOR FORGERY AND SHOOTING WILL BE EXAMINED BY ALIENISTS

Aid of the bureau of juvenile research will be enlisted by Judge J. H. Hamilton of juvenile court in ascertaining the mental status of Lawrence Ridenhour, 17, tried Friday for forgery and shooting.

The lad was arrested by the police recently. He has been in juvenile court on other charges previously. "I believe the lad is sub-normal," declared Judge Hamilton, "and will send him to Columbus to allow alienists to determine the matter." Lawrence will probably be sent to the state capital next week.

REV. KIRK O'FERRALL TO OFFICIATE AT OBSEQUES FOR LATE T. REED DUNLAP

Funeral services for T. Reed Dunlap, Lima financier, who died Wednesday, will be held Monday at 2 p. m., at the residence, 467 S. Cole-st. The Rev. Kirk B. O'Ferrall, rector of Christ church, Episcopal, will officiate at the service.

Music for the service will be provided by a quartette, composed of Fred Calvert, J. Allen Grubb, Mrs. F. E. Gooding and Mrs. R. O. Woods.

Full bearers will be Joseph Cowan, A. W. Wheatley, George E. Bayly, Frank Kominak, John W. Roby, Walter S. Jackson, D. H. Kilwin, William L. Russell, Dr. J. Clyde Butler and Allan Edwards, the latter of McGuffey.

The body will be laid to final rest at Woodlawn.

TAXPAYERS POUR $25,000 PER DAY INTO TREASURY

Collection of taxes in Allen-co is running around average of $25,000 daily, Harry E. Botkin county treasurer, announced Friday.

Taxpayers have 10 more days to pay before the penalty provided by law will be added to their taxes. Amount of money from the city of Lima is cut down because special assessments are paid thru the county are now paid direct to the city.

More than 60 per cent of the total taxes due has been paid in, Botkin believes. He anticipates there will be some delinquency. He is unable to estimate the total collections.

MEN AND MATTERS

Accompanied by Scoutmaster William T. Henderson and three assistants, 20 Boy Scouts of Columbus, traveling in two motor trucks were in Lima Friday, returning home from Macatawa Park, Mich., where they had been in camp. The boys range in age from 12 to 18 years.

H. J. Ridge, county farm agent, attended a district farm agents' picnic and conference at Collins Friday. Agents from surrounding counties were present and discussed farm problems with experts from the Ohio State University.

Scott Carl, of the G. E. Blum store, has returned from the convention of the International Association of Display men at Chicago, where he spent several days.

A. J. Stiele, W. David Trevanor, H. Currant and L. F. Applegate are at Cedar Point, for a stay of several days.

Glenn Webb, insurance and surety bond salesman, 56 public square, is a patient at St. Rita's hospital. Webb has sought rest and recuperation within bounds of the hospital. He has been in ill health some weeks.

A memory training institute, to be conducted by Robert H. Thompson, "The Man with the Million Dollar Memory," was approved by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday. The institute will be held the week of July 21, it was announced.

Could You Replace Your Home?

The house that cost $5,000 in 1913 would cost nearly $10,000 to replace today. If you have not doubled your fire insurance over what it was in 1913 your protection has been practically cut in half.

If you should have a fire, your insurance would go but a short way toward meeting the cost of replacement. Don't take such a chance.

AETNA-IZE

We will be glad to appraise your home and issue a policy in the Automobile Insurance Company that will cover the difference between its original cost and its present value.

CHILD MUST NOT BE SOLD

State Officials Will Not Permit Auction of Lad

BYESVILLE.—(United Press).—Baby Richard Turner must not be sold.

State authorities today notified Mrs. Augusta Turner, the child's mother, that the sale of the child is against the law and that she will not be permitted to auction off her child.

"The state law provides that a child under two years of age cannot be disposed of without court authority," was the statement of Miss Mary Atkinson, chief of the institutional inspection of the department of welfare.

Mrs. Turner has been notified that she cannot sell her child. "I don't know what I will do now," Mrs. Turner said.

Mrs. Turner had offered to sell Baby Richard for $3,000, to obtain funds to care for her mother who is suffering from an incurable disease. "All that I can say is that I was willing to sacrifice Baby to save mother's life," she concluded.

Mrs. Turner first advertised the baby "for sale" in a Columbus newspaper. Later yesterday she decided not to go thru with the sale. Today she again placed the baby on the market and then came the notification from the state authorities.

GRUBB TO ADMINISTER $1,000 M'PHERON ESTATE

J. Allen Grubb, florist, 136 N. Main-st, was named administrator of the estate of Calvin C. McPheron, 414 Prospect-ave, who died July 5. Appointment was made by Judge J. H. Hamilton in probate court on Friday.

The decedent is survived by Mrs. Ruth McPheron, and Auda McPheron, mother and daughter. Worth of property left is estimated at $1,000.

FURTHER AIRING OF BOOSE CASE SATURDAY

Hearing of a new episode in the marital feud existing between Frances Robinson Boose, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Roger E. Boose, Lima realtor, will be held before Judge E. R. Eastman of Ottawa, in common pleas court Saturday.

Boose is accused of being $500 behind in payment of alimony. Attorneys for Mrs. Boose seek his incarceration if he continues to refuse to pay.

Alimony of $100 a month was awarded the wife, a year ago. Boose was later cited into court to explain why he had not obeyed the mandate of the court. He promised to pay regularly.

Since December, it is alleged Boose has paid only $65. Mrs. Boose and child are expected to arrive in Lima Friday.

CHILD HURT WHEN AUTOS MEET IN HEADON CRASH

Leola Hoopes, 6, West-st road near Lima, was slightly cut about the neck and face, Friday, when an automobile in which she was riding with Walter Everett, 15, crashed head on into another machine driven by Mrs. G. A. Swickard.

Young Everett was riding north on Elizabeth-st, he said, and Mrs. Swickard was proceeding south on the same street. The machines came together at the intersection of the streets.

Mrs. Swickard resides at 615 W. Elm-st.

AMERICA CANNOT TAKE PART IN WORLD COURT, HOLT TOLD BY HUGHES

WASHINGTON.—Secretary Hughes, replying today to a letter recently addressed to him by Hamilton Holt, president of the Woodrow Wilson Democracy of New York, said he could see no prospect for any treaty or convention by which the United States government should share in the maintenance of the permanent court of international justice until some provision by which, without membership in the league of nations, the American government would be able to have an appropriate voice in the election of the court's judges.

BRIDGE EVENT GIVEN IN HONOR OF BRIDE-TO-BE

FOR MOST among the many delightful social attentions with which Miss Bess Sharpley, bride-elect of next Wednesday, has been showered by admiring friends, was the matinee bridge the Misses Gertrude Boose and Betty Laughlin, always charming hostesses, arranged for Friday afternoon.

The Boose home, 1028 W. Market-st., to which the guests were bidden, was decorated with vari-colored garden flowers and it was in this delightful atmosphere that play was enjoyed during the early afternoon hours.

The tea tables held bowls of sweet peas in the colors of pink and lavender. Suspended above the bride-elect's table was a pretty arrangement, from which extended streamers, to which were sewed tiny wedding bells, carrying out more fully the wedding thought. Nut baskets were of delicate pink. Ice cream was moulded in the favorite colors with the initials "S" imprinted thereon.

Miss Sharpley is to reside over a delightful home, to which her fiancé, Dr. Gabriel F. Gurley, will take her, following their marriage next Wednesday.

In the assembled company were: Miss Sharpley, Miss Dorothy Collins, Miss Mary Kathryn Itoby, Miss Josephine Garretson, Miss Hope Hollister, Miss Margaret Gregg, Miss Florence Price, Miss Eloise Cunningham, Miss Margdaline Stolzenbach, Miss Mary Parmenter, Miss Mildred Catt, Miss Annette Itoby, Miss Dorothy Wheeler, Miss Louise Ackerman.

Miss Margaret McHaffey, Miss Catharine Jones, Miss Veronica Cruz, Miss Margaret Graham, Miss Elizabeth Newman, Miss Corinne Burroughs, Miss Marlan Cable, Miss Jane Bentley, Miss Janet White, Miss Pauline Wenner, Miss Dorothy Kahle, Miss Elizabeth Moulton, Miss Mary Roberts, Miss Helen Hunter, Miss Dorothy Hunter, Miss Margaret Stolzenbach.

Miss Jeanette Stolzenbach, Miss Anna Bradley, Miss Violet Bradley, Miss Selma Weikelbaum, Miss Martha Roby, Miss Ruth Wells, Miss Abigail Sullivan, Miss Josephine Purtscher, Miss Lucia Bernstein, Miss Sara Laughlin and her guest, Miss Jean Converse, Cincinnati, Miss Catharine Schaefer.

Mrs. Paul Timmerman and her guest, Miss Grace Moberly, Chicago, Miss Adam McNaughton, sister of Miss Sharpley, Pittsburgh, Mrs. Ralph Sweney, Mrs. Glommes Woodruff, Mrs. Seward Polson, Mrs. Frank Wallace, Mrs. Donald McHaffey, Mrs. Harry Wheatley, Mrs. Raymond Conroy, Mrs. Bernard Blunt.

Mrs. Ralph Sholder, Mrs. Otto McMillan, Mrs. A. G. Sawyer, Mrs. B. P. DeHutts, Mrs. W. L. Allgrove, Mrs. Robert Haas, Greensburg, Ind., Mrs. Kenneth Kerr, Wilmington; Mrs. Robert DeWenter, Bloomington, Ill., and Mrs. Carl Neville.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Russell, 649 W. Market-st., will arrive Saturday, after spending a delightful ten days at Lake Geneva, and in Chicago.

Mrs. J. D. S. Neely, 424 S. Cole-st., and Mrs. Edna Neely Rogers and two children, Doris Ann and Elizabeth, leave Sunday for their summer home in Harbor Point, Mich., where they will spend the remainder of the heated season.

Mrs. Paul Timmerman, 307 N. Collett-st., has as her guest, Miss Grace Moberly, Chicago.

Mrs. L. L. Crumrine, 425 N. Charles-st., is enjoying a visit from Miss Wilmoth Crumrine, formerly of Lima, now of Tulsa, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell, 230 S. Collett-st., are spending a week in Chicago, having motored to the Windy City Thursday.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart—
W HAT relation am I to my grandfather's wife's second wife? What relation are they to me? (2) What is correct of these two sentences: "My father is going to town" and "My father is going out of town"? (3) Are bobbed hair and short skirts going out of style? (4) If you were I would you let your hair grow out? I am fifteen years old. (5) Is question I correct grammatically? (6) Would it be alright for two girls of 14 to go out riding on Saturday evening with two boys of the same age? (7) Would it be alright for the two same girls to go to a summer resort with the same two boys and spend Sunday? (8) Should a girl wear a boy's ring if he lets her have it?

Answer: Your great-uncle's second wife would make you her grand-niece, by marriage. She is your grand-aunt-by-marriage.

(2) The first sentence is merely an abridged manner of stating the fact. It is not improper, but the second way of saying it is the more correct.

(3) Skirts are to be slightly longer but bobbed hair seems to remain as universally popular as ever.

(4) Why not continue to wear your hair bobbed for a few years? It is more youthful and convenient.

(5) Yes.

(6) You are entirely too young to accompany boys on automobile trips.

(7) Decidedly not, unless you are accompanied by some older person.

(8) There probably is no harm in your wearing a boy's ring, but it is a silly habit, not to be indulged in by fifteen-year olds. Wear your own jewelry.

Dear Miss Smart—

Kindly tell me what kind of clothing and different frocks are necessary for a girl going on a vacation at a summer resort. Thanking you in advance.

Answer: Sports costumes seem to be the favorite mode at summer resorts, and if you have a brightly-colored slip-on sweater or two, to wear with a white or contrasting silk skirt, you will be well-dressed at any time. A linen or gingham frock is almost a necessity, and then you should include a dark crepe or silk for evenings.

Limit your wardrobe to a few costumes as possible, but have them of good material; perfect fit and becoming colors.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

SATURDAY
Mrs. O. P. Selfridge entertains at luncheon at Shawnee Country club, as a courtesy to her guest, Mrs. Margaret Whaley, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brice Wilson's guest, Mrs. Greene.

Dr. Forster Robinson, E. J. Maire, Blake Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith will leave Sunday for Houghton, Mich., on a month's fishing trip.

Mr. Cecil Douglas, 815 Linden-st., opened her home Friday afternoon for the postponed meeting of Class No. 4 of the First Christian church. Mrs. Reed Maus was assistant hostess.

Miss Caroline Miller's guest, Miss Bernice Purdy, has returned to her home in Cincinnati, after a week's visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Davis, 115 S. Metcalf-st., have returned from a trip to New York and Atlantic City.

Miss Serilda Wood, 527 N. Jameson-av., has joined her father, F. E. Wood, on a trip to Shreveport, Ohio.

Mrs. Edward Lattenz Bayley, 525 W. Market-st., gave a luncheon of handsome appointments at the Barr Hotel Thursday, complimenting Miss Crumrine, who is here from Tulsa for a visit with Mrs. L. L. Crumrine.

Pink and lavender sweet peas decorated the table. Enjoying Mrs. Bayley's hospitality were Mrs. Crumrine, Mrs. Robert B. Tolson, Mrs. William F. Hoover, Mrs. Oscar N. Young, Mrs. Vernon Fisher, Mrs. J. C. Atkinson, Mrs. Otto W. McMillan, Mrs. William Shook, Mrs. Roy Evans and Miss Mildred Catt.

Miss Mary Longworth, 1735 Lakewood-av., entertained members of the Colonial Sewing club, their husbands and a few guests at her delightful home, Wednesday evening. The arrangements were charmingly informal and the guests enjoyed musical numbers in rooms made fragrant and beautiful by the decoration of garden flowers of various hues.

Supper was served at 10 o'clock before the happy party of thirty departed for their homes.

Members of Shawnee Country club, who so thoroughly enjoyed the monthly musicale at the club house in June, will regret to know that the dinner and musical, planned for July, has been postponed until the return of Mrs. Forster Robinson from the east, where she goes soon to study voice. Mrs. Robinson is chairman of the committee musicals. The date decided upon will probably be some time in August.

The Misses Betty and Sara Laughlin, 1012 W. Market-st., are entertaining Miss Jean Converse, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Forster Robinson, 115 S. Metcalf-st., widely-known contralto and teacher of music, will leave Saturday for Saratoga, N. Y., where she will spend the next six weeks in study of voice, under one of the most competent teachers the east affords. Mrs. Robinson is choir director at Christ church, Episcopal.

Mrs. W. L. Reid, 684 W. Market-st., was a charming hostess of Friday, entertaining at luncheon at Shawnee Country club, as a courtesy to Mrs. Alan Booth, former Lima resident, who is a visitor here from Pontiac, Mich., and Miss Bess Sharpley, bride-elect of Dr. Gabriel F. Gurley, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Morris Greenleaf, 818 State-st., has returned from a delightful visit of some weeks in Dayton, Ia.

Mrs. A. L. White was successful in the bridge play at Shawnee Country club's ladies' day Thursday and Mrs. Dwight L. Goodyear was awarded the trophy for excellence on the golf links. Eleven tables were filled for bridge. The Misses Ann and Lillian Taylor were hostesses for the bridge games.

Mrs. Holmes Mackenzie is captain of the women golfers and in charge of the elimination match, which is being played off at Shawnee Country club during the month.

Miss Margaret Tolby is spending a short vacation at Cedar Point.

Mrs. Thomas J. Hoffman, 732 W. Wayne-st., was hostess for the Tuesday Bridge club, at her home Thursday evening. Mrs. Clarence Miller was a guest and held high score. A delicious supper was served before the company dispersed.

Dr. M. A. Wagner, Mrs. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Koller have returned from an extended motor trip to Yellowstone National park.

CONCEAL BAD TRAITS BY RIGHT HAT

BY MARIAN HALE
OUR head tells everything, says the phrenologist. Well, perhaps it might if we let it.

But we don't—we have milliners. And the right hat will intercept any message your bumps and depressions might broadcast.

A phrenologist might chart your head carefully and by an analysis of your surface indications learn you are sensible, thoughtful, serious and fond of home life.

An aggregation of natural virtues like those leads to be pepped up by something a little more intriguing in the way of a hat.

Or, there's an even chance your bumps might reveal a tendency toward vanity, worldliness, lack of consideration, and other qualities whose existence should never be allowed to leak beyond the home circle.

Plainly, a hat here is needed to assume the virtues the wearer has not.

In every wardrobe is a real need for three hats—a sensible one, a frivolous one and a personality hat. The sensible hat need not be unbecoming—far from it, note the one in the picture. But it needs to be an adaptable one, like a sensible friend, whom you can rely upon at all times.

You need a frivolous hat to match your lighter hours—just as you need companions who laugh. Such a hat should create a certain illusion of lightness of spirit.

A personality hat needs to express one dominant trait of your personality. Something Slavic in you may be emphasized by a Russian turban or your Oriental luxury-loving disposition made apparent by a well-handled with Oriental knowings.

Your vampirish, kittenish, melancholy and spiritual moods can all be expressed in your millinery.

Never judge any hat by the way

It looks in the show window. The one with the marvelously contrived trimming may be all wrong, while the soft, indefinite one may lend itself to the most individual lines. Never pull your hat carelessly on.

LEARN A WORD A DAY

TODAY'S word is HARANGUE.

It's pronounced ha-rang, with the accent on the last syllable. The first a is as the a in ask, and the second a is short.

It means — when used as a noun, popular oration, a speech addressed to a large public assembly, a noisy, ranting speech; when used as a verb: to address earnestly or noisily.

It comes from the French "harangue" meaning, literally, a speech before a large multitude.

It's used like this — as a noun: "He delivered an impassioned harangue;" as a verb: "He harangued the crowd."

Molly Accepts Wheeler's Business Offer

By ZOE BECKLEY

WHOM SHALL MOLLY MARRY? After having halted the elopement of MOLLY WAYNE with DONALD MANNING, an actor, by producing LILA, former love of Manning, BEN WHEELER, manufacturer, himself proposes marriage. When Molly fails to give an answer he asks her to come to work in his factory as head of the office staff.

"Yes," went on Ben's steady voice, "it shall be just business, Molly. I won't bother you. I'll treat you like any other employee with a clear road to qualify as partner if you get interested and want to stick. What do you say, girl?" Once more Molly felt solid ground beneath her feet. Ben's offer of work was at least the support she was groping for.

"Yes, Ben," she cried eagerly. "Yes!" It turned out to be a life-saver. The men and women under her at the Wheeler Cutlery Works needing her constant supervision interested her hugely and helped her forget her own grief and perplexity.

From her temporary office—plans for the new administration building were being made by Billy Barton — she could hear the steady clump of machines turning out knives, razors, shears for all parts of the world. How different it all was from the garish and timey confusion Don Manning was making. And yet Don—

She forced herself not to think along those lines. She resolutely looked at Ben Wheeler, the driving young power not only of his own big plant but of the whole industry and of Midvale itself.

He kept to his promise of "strictly business during business hours" and with him business filled nearly all his waking hours.

One day when Barton, the architect, came to discuss the distribution of office space, Wheeler brought him in.

"Thresh it out, you two," he said at the doorway, "I can't bother with house finishing and furnishing."

When he had gone, Molly and Billy Barton avoided each other's eyes. They had not met since the night of the Don affair, when Benning had taken Molly to the station in his car. But soon they were engrossed in Billy's blueprints and all embarrassments forgotten.

Molly could have sung with deep-down happiness as she bent her head with Billy's blond one over the big table plotting where her room should be and whether Wheeler's private office should have 12 feet here and nine there or whether efficiency called for other apportionment.

"LET'S WHAT?" IT WAS BEN WHEELER WHO SPOKE.

For once there was no clash anywhere. Her mind and Billy's struck sparks and inspiration from each other. One would suggest a problem; the other caught it up, solved it and tossed it back again.

It was delicious and stimulating. She was creating, working with strength to uphold, serving Ben Wheeler, helping Billy, learning a lot.

"By Jove!" exclaimed Barton, glancing at his watch, "Five o'clock! I swear I never worked so well or enjoyed it so much before."

"I either. Billy, your face is pink with excitement!" "And your eyes shine like—like what? Those stones they wear in rings? I say, work a regular jag when you love it!"

"An inspiration!" "You're the inspiration, Molly." "Well, let's call the work plus you plus me!"

"All right, let's! And the two clasped heads beamingly.

"Let's what?" It was Ben Wheeler who spoke, suddenly, from the doorway, his keen glance taking everything at a sweep.

It is Bluem Value Giving that is Making Famous the

July Clearances

Starting with a conservative trend, the July Clearances have rapidly developed in the first days to an event that promises some of the greatest values offered in months. Where do you find merchandise of the BLUEM quality --- such $25 hats at $5---$6 ones at $1--$3.75 pure glove silk hose—Kayser make at $2.29—$8.50 clever little house frocks reduced to $2.98! There is not one single item announced but that coming from our regular stock, and that is of assured quality. Bluem's Fifth Floor rug and diaphery department is famous for its admirable stocks of merchandise that the shopper really is looking for—and its reductions on rugs, curtains, drapes, etc., are noteworthy. It will pay you to look into these sales tomorrow if you have not already done so. If you do not you will certainly be the loser at these prices!

Our Feature Saturday Sale will be a Clearance of FLOOR LAMPS!

There are 8 choice lamps included at this price. They are in regular height, with solid mahogany or other sticks. The shades alone are worth this price. Silks, in deep shades of rose, blue, green, tan, etc. make up the selection, and the fringes and braidings are unusually costly and the shapes well designed for this price lamp. Taken all in all they are about the finest lamp bargains that we have ever been able to offer, and will be a matter of a short while for them to be gone at

The group at $24.95 are mainly those new ones received a short while ago and priced much higher. They are on metal Para Carved standards—the newest idea in floor lamp designing. Shades are to harmonize, fine silks—and trimmings are neatly finished. All fringes are deep, and of good shades. These are not only unusual in appearance, but will lend an air of dignity and good taste to the room in which they are placed. A picked selection of only 12—but the very choicest we can offer, and at the unusual price of—

$24.75

Fifth Floor

Photograph Frames

Here are heavy gold, or steel finish frames—each designed gracefully, and a few are in polychrome. All swing on bases—sizes 6x9 up—and priced from $1.59 to $4.50 each. The new bargain in photograph frames is a wooden-patterned, silver or gold finished frame—in sizes 5x8, 6x8, 7x9, 8x9, 7x11, etc.—well made—VERY SPECIAL for Saturday at 98c each

Third Floor—West

Glove Silk Hose

Beginning Saturday morning again we will continue the sale of Glove Silk Hosiery—closing out three entire lines. Kayser, Van Raalte, and Shanahan. They are to be had in either fancy lace weaves or plain—and in all wanted colors, formerly up to $3.75. We have never before offered Glove silk hosiery at a price as low as this—and doubt its reoccurrence. It is a bargain well worth looking into. ALL FIRST CLASS STOCK taken from the shelves—

$2.29 pair

One Lot of Curtains

Especially one item in the curtain clearance causes widespread interest in each of the half yearly sales—the curtains at Half Price. They are reasonable—fine merchandise—chosen from regular stock—and always desirable. This year marisettes—scrims—with hem-stitched motifs, etc; new Irish Points—several novelty weaves, and a variety of Ruffled curtains are offered.

Half Price

The New Gossard Model at $2.00

The Gossard model at $2 is an entirely new thing. A corset designed for every figure—and one that gives satisfactory fit. In front lace only—for the short stout figure in plain pink coutil—and for the small slender figure in fancy pink coutil. An excellent number and one that wears and fits with the accuracy of every Gossard Corset. And the price is surprisingly small for a thing so well designed and made. We have held the sale of them to begin Saturday, and purchases can be made only after the doors open in the morning at 8:30. Fittings if desired,—and the service will be better the earlier you come. You will want to select two at this price.

Our Cleverest

Sport Skirts

At the beginning of the season we had the most complete and thoroly striking selection of sport skirts ever shown in the Bluem store. It was comprised of the newest and most approved of crepes—silks, and light woollens. All were made in smart and attractive styles—and tempted the discriminating shopper to add to her wardrobe just another sport suit. They ranged in price from $13.50 to $19.75. All were exclusive and strikingly beautiful. These will be cleared out—at the final reduction to—

$10.00

The Coats Are Half Price

The lightweight wraps—for fall wear as much as spring—are going at half price. They are in navies, or pille fabrics—very smart and choice—but not a large selection.

All Suits at Cost and Less!

All our navy suits have been cut to no profit. They must be cleared out in place of our Fall stock which is beginning to arrive. Adaptable for many season's wear, they are certainly bargains at reductions that feature cuts from $98.00 to $29.75 and lower.

The Sale of House Frocks

continues—and grows more popular with each shopper who inspects them! But that is inevitable—for it is made up of our entire stock—in the finest qualities of gingham, chambrays, and fine Japanese crepes. They are neatly and attractively trimmed with cretonnes, organdy, plain gingham, fine braids, pique, linene, dimity, etc. The styles are conservative with that desired touch of youthfulness in their makeup. You can wear them for shopping, or house-wear alike—which with their price makes them doubly economical—reduced from as high as $8.50 to one price—

$2.98

Notice These Prices—

"The New Retail District"

"Peggy Beal Was Inspired to Kill by this Picture"

How the District Attorney Champion Lover Gave His Fiftieth Sweetheart a Novel to Read—and How It Cost Him His Life

"DEAREST, I have just read a wonderful book," wrote F. Warren Anderson, dashing young ex-army flyer and "wholesale dealer in hearts," to his fiftieth sweetheart—Peggy Beal.

"It is called 'Thuvia, Maid of Mars.' If you haven't read it, get it by all means, darling, for it touched me deeply."

The pretty young nurse, madly in love with the man whom she had already accepted as a "soul mate," and whom, she says, she hoped to marry despite the fact that he had an undivorced wife, hastened to buy the book—a popular novel.

Three days afterward Peggy Beal learned from Anderson's own "love diary" of the forty-nine sweethearts who had preceded her—and of a fifty-first who was soon to usurp her place.

The following morning Warren Anderson lay dead in a hotel room in Kansas City, with a bullet through his heart, and Peggy Beal, who admitted firing the shot and who had wounded herself in an unsuccessful effort to take her own life, was under arrest in a hospital.

In the room where the tragedy occurred the police found the book which Anderson himself had urged Peggy Beal to buy—open at a picture of a girl who had just killed a man to release herself from his control over her.

And Prosecuting Attorney Orr, in his formal statement charging Miss Beal with a similar act, said:

"Miss Beal shot Anderson while he slept. She had given her love to this man, knowing that he was married. They lived together as man and wife. Then he tired of her. He decided to cast her off."

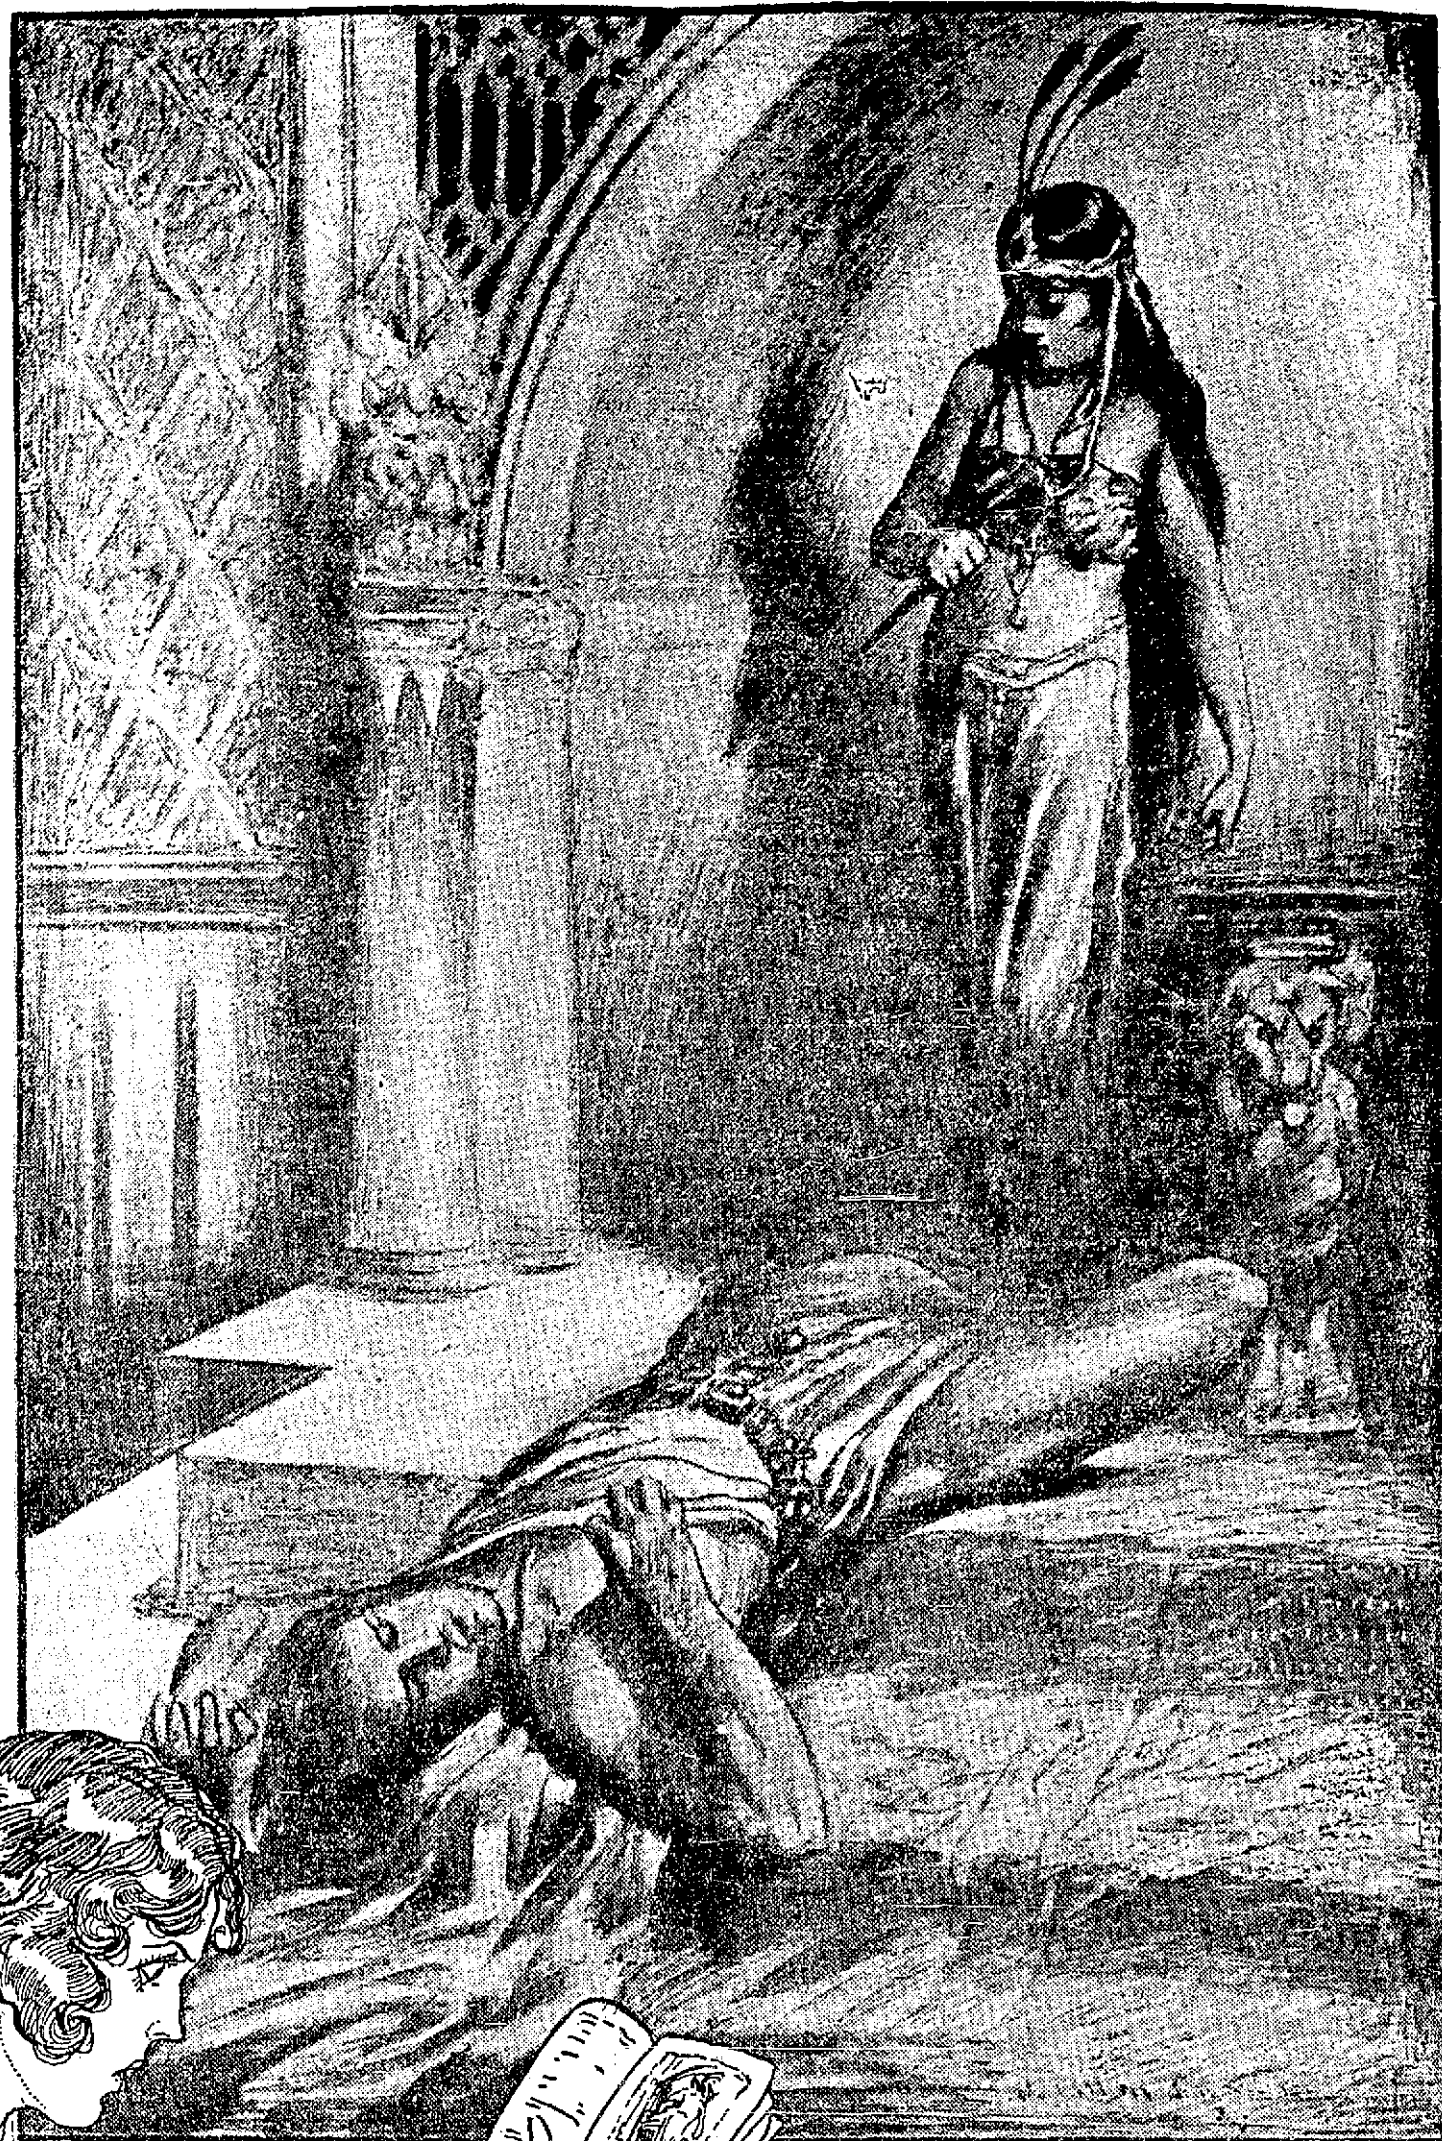

"She had been reading a book, 'Thuvia, Maid of Mars.' In it she saw a picture—a girl with a dagger standing over the still form of the man she had killed."

"Her mind turned to the thought. 'She planned to kill.'"

According to the prosecution, Peggy Beal had seen in the fiction story a parallel with her own life—and had made the hearts and sweep the leaves away and make it fit to live in. But it was not to be.

"We might have been so happy, but I had endured a great deal and something had to break. He took my life, my faith, my spirit and my belief in life, and broke them like twigs. Sometimes you come to a place where you can't go on. That was where I came. I don't care what happens to me now."

Miss Beal claims that by Anderson's own confession she was his fiftieth sweetheart, and has revealed

"She had been reading a book . . . in it she saw a picture—a girl with a dagger standing over the still form of the man she had killed."

—District Attorney.

from letters in Anderson's own handwriting the strange love creed which he followed.

In one of them he said:

"Love grows from a tiny seed planted in the garden of the heart. Fertilize it with tender words; water it with kisses, and keep it under the warm rays of adoring passion; but when the plant springs up, prune it of its offshoots, pluck off the insects, and then the real love will grow into the most beautiful flower in the world."

It was she, Miss Beal thought, who was destined to be the "beautiful flower." Other "offshoots" of Anderson's past were to be plucked away, and their love would remain.

Then came the disillusionment. She learned, she said, that, like her forty-nine former rivals, she, too, was to be discarded, and that still another woman was to be chosen for the role of "beautiful flower." Then she sought to end both their lives.

According to the investigations in Kansas City, Miss Beal is a native of Ohio, has been a professional trained nurse, did war work, and was herself under treatment in a hospital at one time for tuberculosis. It is stated that she had been previously married.

F. Warren Anderson was a native of Collinswood, New Jersey, where his prosperous parents and many kinsfolk still reside.

He was married to and separated from Miss Opal West, of Indianapolis, but they were not divorced.

A remarkable description of Anderson as a "wholesale dealer in hearts" was given, after the killing, by his aunt, Mrs. William Steinman, of Philadelphia.

"Poor Frank!" she said. "From his childhood he was a girl fascinator. He made love at school, married young, and when his wife quarreled with him because he stayed away from home at nights, he would pull out his 'love diary,' read off the names of girls he had written in it, and taunt her with romances and love affairs he had had with them."

"Romance seemed to be the bread-and-butter of his life. He danced well, could sing, and was agreeably entertaining. He had a winning way with him, a flair for women, and was never happy unless in the midst of a riotous party of girls."

"And he loved to play them off against each other, took an inordinate pride, one might say, in his curious ability to excite jealousy among the girls of his acquaintance."

"No aunt ever had a better, more devoted nephew, and no mother a more devoted son. But it is ill trifling with love. His death under such circumstances as arose with Miss Beal is a dreadful, shocking blow."

F. Warren Anderson, "the Perfect Lover," Who Was Slain by His Sweetheart, Peggy Beal.

similarly complete by slaying the man she loved.

The passage from the book which describes the scene, and which, according to the charge of the prosecution, she had just been reading, follows:

"Come," he whispered. "Come, woman! For countless ages have I dreamed that you would come."

"Thuvia shrank back. She thought the man mad. Her hand stole to the jeweled hilt of her dagger. The man saw the move and stopped. A cunning expression entered his eyes. Then they became at once dreamy and penetrating as they fairly bored into the girl's brain."

"Thuvia felt a sudden change coming over her. What the cause of it she did not guess; but somehow the man before her began to assume a new relationship within her heart. No longer was he a strange and mysterious enemy. Her hand slipped from the dagger's hilt. His hand was upon her shoulder. His eyes were down-bent. She looked up into his face. His gaze seemed to bore straight through her. She moved a little closer to him. In one swift flood of light she knew the truth. She loved Tario. She had always loved him.

"The man, seeing the success of his strategy, could not restrain a smile of satisfaction. Whether there was something in the expression of his face, or whether there came a powerful suggestion, who can say? But something there was that suddenly dispelled the strange hypnotic influence of the man."

"As though a mask had been torn from her eyes, Thuvia suddenly saw Tario as she had formerly seen him."

"Again he caught her roughly to him. 'If you will not be my queen,' he said, 'you shall be my slave.'"

"Neither!" cried the girl. "As she spoke the single word there was a quick move of her right hand, and Tario, releasing her, staggered back, both hands pressed to his side, and sank senseless to the marble floor."

Miss Beal, in her own statement, does not mention the book or the picture. She neither admits nor denies the prosecuting attorney's charge that it inspired her to kill.

She says:

"Warren was not asleep. We had talked. He had told me of his other loves, and we retired. I lay there sobbing in the dark. Our love had died and my heart was broken."

"Then—I remember it now—I got up in the dark and groped my way to my trunk, where an old revolver, given me by my father, lay. I got it. I fired blindly—I don't know how many shots. If he spoke, I did not hear him. I do not know how I hit him, for I never fired a shot before. Then I shot myself. He was not asleep."

"I knew Warren was a lady's man. I thought we might take our little house of

Alaize-co Commissioners Object to Brick on Dixie

BRICK FIRM FOR MATERIAL

sh Affects Highway Between Lima and Wapak construction of the Dixie Highway thru Auglaize-co may be held up by a wrangle between the county commissioners and Leon G. Herrick, a highway director.

Herrick has awarded the portion of the road from Wapakoneta north to the Allen-co line to Lewis & Clark, of Lima and the road is to be built of brick.

Auglaize-co commissioners say they will not pay their half. In a letter to Herrick they are quoted as saying:

COMMISSIONERS OBJECT
You are no doubt aware that the road has not been signed and dedicated. We believe it our duty to refuse to sign the bonds or deeds for the road.

It is claimed that the commission wanted the road constructed of material. A campaign in favor of brick has been waged not only in Auglaize-co, but in Allen-co as well.

Herrick in reply to the commissioners states that $124,000 has been certified by the county auditor for the road and that the amount is being taken on brick," his letter says, "and the award was made on brick in the public interest. The work will proceed on the county accordingly."

"Signing of the bonds is a matter of form in which this department is not concerned," he adds.

Commissioners who say they will not deliver the bonds are John W. G. Brackney, P. F. Graessle and E. H. Young.

BRICK PREDOMINATION

Brick is the predominating type on the Dixie Highway in Allen-co. Commissioners here sought to influence Herrick to use other material in interests of economy.

Herrick told them a brick or other heavy type will be needed on the Dixie because, once the section in Allen and Auglaize-cos is open, three times more traffic will flow over the road. The Dixie affords direct connection between Cincinnati and Detroit.

Lewis & Copeland are moving machinery into Auglaize-co to commence work on three projects awarded them.

RAINBOW DIVISION VETS CONVENE AT MINNEAPOLIS

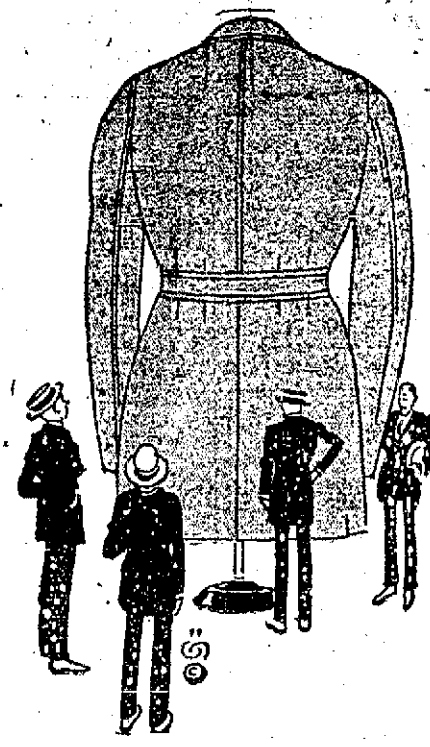

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Two minutes of silent tribute to comrades buried overseas marked the opening here today of the two day annual reunion of the Rainbow Division Veterans' Association.

Several hundred delegates from the 27 states represented in the division were welcomed to the city by Mayor George E. Leach, president of the association. Mayor Leach served as a colonel in command of the 151st field artillery.

Subjects for discussion at the gathering include definition of the term "Americanization" and practical means of enforcing it; aid in securing the passage of alien registration bill now before congress, and obtaining erection of monuments to mark graves of Rainbow men in France.

"THE TATOOED ARM"

By America's Mistress of Mystery Stories

Isabel Ostrander

AUTHOR OF "THE WRONG FACE" AND "THE STEP ON THE STAIR"

Starts in The Lima News
Monday, July 17

"The Tattooed Arm" makes fools of three wise men, a broker, a scientist and a stockman. They're brothers, rich, successful, sophisticated -- but the threat of the arm makes them act like ninnies. Crime stalks in, leaning on the tattooed arm -- crime past, crime present!

You will get the thrill of a lifetime when you reach the climax of this amazing, astounding story.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Walter Nungesser, Lima raconteur, of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, tells of the sad experience of a fellow student and fraternity brother.

This student was invited to attend a picnic. It was to be quite a picnic and he looked forward to it greatly.

He even refused to go to the movies with the other students the night before, saying that he must sleep so that he might rise early and get ready for the picnic.

Even the fact that his favorite movie actress was holding forth on the screen that night failed to attract him.

"I should worry," said he. "The time I'll have at the picnic will make up for a little thing like that."

At 4 the alarm clock rang and the student rose. He turned the electric iron on to heat so that he might press his flannel trousers, and then jumped into the shower.

Four o'clock is early in the morning. The warm water was soothing. He fell asleep standing up in the shower.

But not for long. The water gradually grew hot. He woke up and so did everyone else in the fraternity house when he hollered "Ouch."

"But I should worry about a little thing like a burned back when I'm going to a swell picnic," he told the other students.

More excitement followed immediately Nungesser reports.

During the foregoing the electric iron had been forgotten.

A smell of smoke from the student's bedroom drew attention to it again.

The iron had burned thru the scarf atop the dresser and the varnished top of the dresser was smoking like a burnt steak.

"When the excitement had died down," says Nungesser, "the picnic struck student proclaimed philosophically, 'Well I don't mind a little thing like that when I'm going to a swell picnic.'"

In due time, the student dressed, climbed aboard his fine little car and started away for the picnic.

"You fellows sleep," he shouted to the other students who were returning to bed, "but believe me, picnicking is the life for me."

Some hours later the other students rose. They were assembling for breakfast when they heard the chugging of a fine little car outside the fraternity house.

Then the front door slammed. It slammed most violently.

"The guy picnicker had returned," says Nungesser. "But no longer so gay."

"Did your machine break down?" he was asked.

"No," he answered. "Did you lose your way?"

"No."

"Well, what happened then?"

"When I got to the picnic grounds no one was there but the caretaker. He said, 'You're kinda early, mister. The picnic isn't until tomorrow.'"

LATEST IN RADIO--SUPER-REGENERATIVE RECEIVER

By PAUL F. GODLEY

America's Foremost Radio Authority
Build your own super-regenerative set.

It is not difficult if you get a clear understanding of the fundamentals.

This type of receiving set, perfected by E. H. Armstrong, can give an amplification of 1,000,000! Extremely small energies—such as those set up in the receiving coils—are magnified into strong signals without even using an antenna!

At distances up to 20 miles a proper combination of circuits gives plenty of volume without any aerial. Using a loop or coil antenna, the same volume may be had at double the distance. To go further than this—that is, to connect the set to an outdoor aerial—is at present impracticable.

The super-regenerative set is essentially one which finds its main application where it is either impossible or undesirable to erect an outdoor aerial. As yet, it does not seem to operate successfully in covering great distances. Except to the engineering student, it offers no particular advantage over the present regenerative receiver and its outdoor antenna at points remote from the transmitting station.

COMPLICATED
For reception at extreme distances, there is no doubt that the super-heterodyne receiver that I used during the reception of the American amateur signals in Scotland last winter, is the peer of them all. Regenerative, super-heterodyne and super-regenerative receivers—all are the inventions of the same genius—Armstrong.

The actions within the super-regenerative set are complicated—but easily comprehensible. To be certain of success in setting up one's set, he must be sure to understand its action. There is small chance of successful operation of an experimental set-up of the circuit unless one does.

The operation of the super-regenerative set is based on that of the regenerative receiver. This takes advantage of the regenerative characteristics of the 3-electrode vacuum tube.

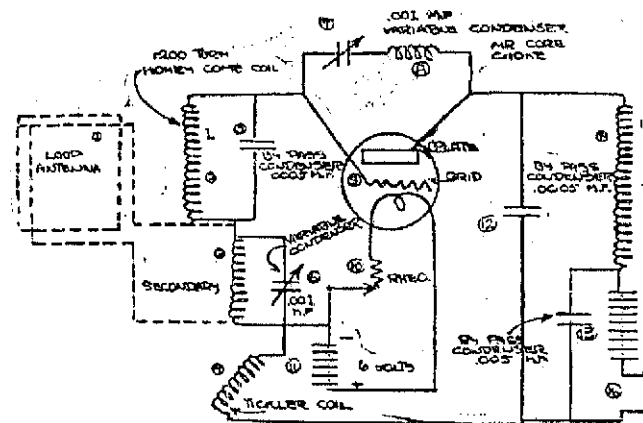

This tube is so constructed that energies which are passed thru it are magnified several times. The regenerative receiver makes it possible to pass these signal energies thru the same tube many times in rapid succession. Each trip amplifies them further.

Theoretically, this enlarging process could go on until the signal strength reaches an infinite value. Actually, however, on signals which are initially strong, the carrying capacity of the tube limits their value.

On signals which initially are extremely weak, the transient phenomena within the tube—such as minute irregularities in the emissions from the filament—defeat full amplification.

HOOK-UP
The diagram gives the hook-up of the Armstrong super-regenerative receiver circuit.

SUPER-REGENERATIVE RECEIVER CIRCUIT

factor, the vacuum tube is supplying oscillatory energy at two frequencies and acting as amplifier. The secondary circuit and tickler are adjusted for oscillations at the frequency of the wave it is wished to receive.

The circuit comprised by 2, 7 and 14 is adjusted for oscillations at a frequency of about 12,000 cycles, which is a very high-pitched audible frequency.

ENGLISH BOY SCOUTS RADIO FANS

England is just as wild about radio as is America. Any Boy Scout over there will say so. They go to school especially to learn all they can about new scientific amusement. Here are a group at the Westminster City School learning the rudiments of radio under direction of their scoutmaster, E. Hasluck.
